AKRON—1730

*In the forest's mighty shadow
Gleams the red man's evening fire.
Its drifting smoke winds upward
Like the smoke from friendly pipes,
From the Calumets, the peace-pipes.
Wearied from the day's long journey,
From his journey to the southland,
From the search for better hunting,
The Indian lies in slumber.
He dreams of lands and streams of plenty.*

*Through the moons of many summers
The red man trod the portage,
Trod the path that will for ages
Serve the pale face, serve a city.*

Ψ Ψ Ψ

1930

*In the city's noisy byways
Gleam the white man's roaring mills;
From the mouths of towering stacks
Pour dark clouds of smoke and soot.
Gone the stillness, gone the forests,
But not the path where redmen trod—
Now it sounds with many motors
Sounds with hum of builders busy,
Making here for all a city,
That shall be for those who help,
A home of peace and happiness,
A home of work and play.*

FOREWORD

By adopting the Indian theme,
the Sohian has endeavored to remind its readers of the story of early days in Summit County. An interest in our predecessors has motivated
the efforts of the present generation of South
High School.

This volume is inspired by the Redmen, children of the Sun and Earth, that restless, adventurous, migratory race who for countless years held the country by virtue of original possession.

This statue was erected on W. Market St. to perpetuate the memory of the trail used by the Indians in making the "big portage" from the waters of the north to those of the south.

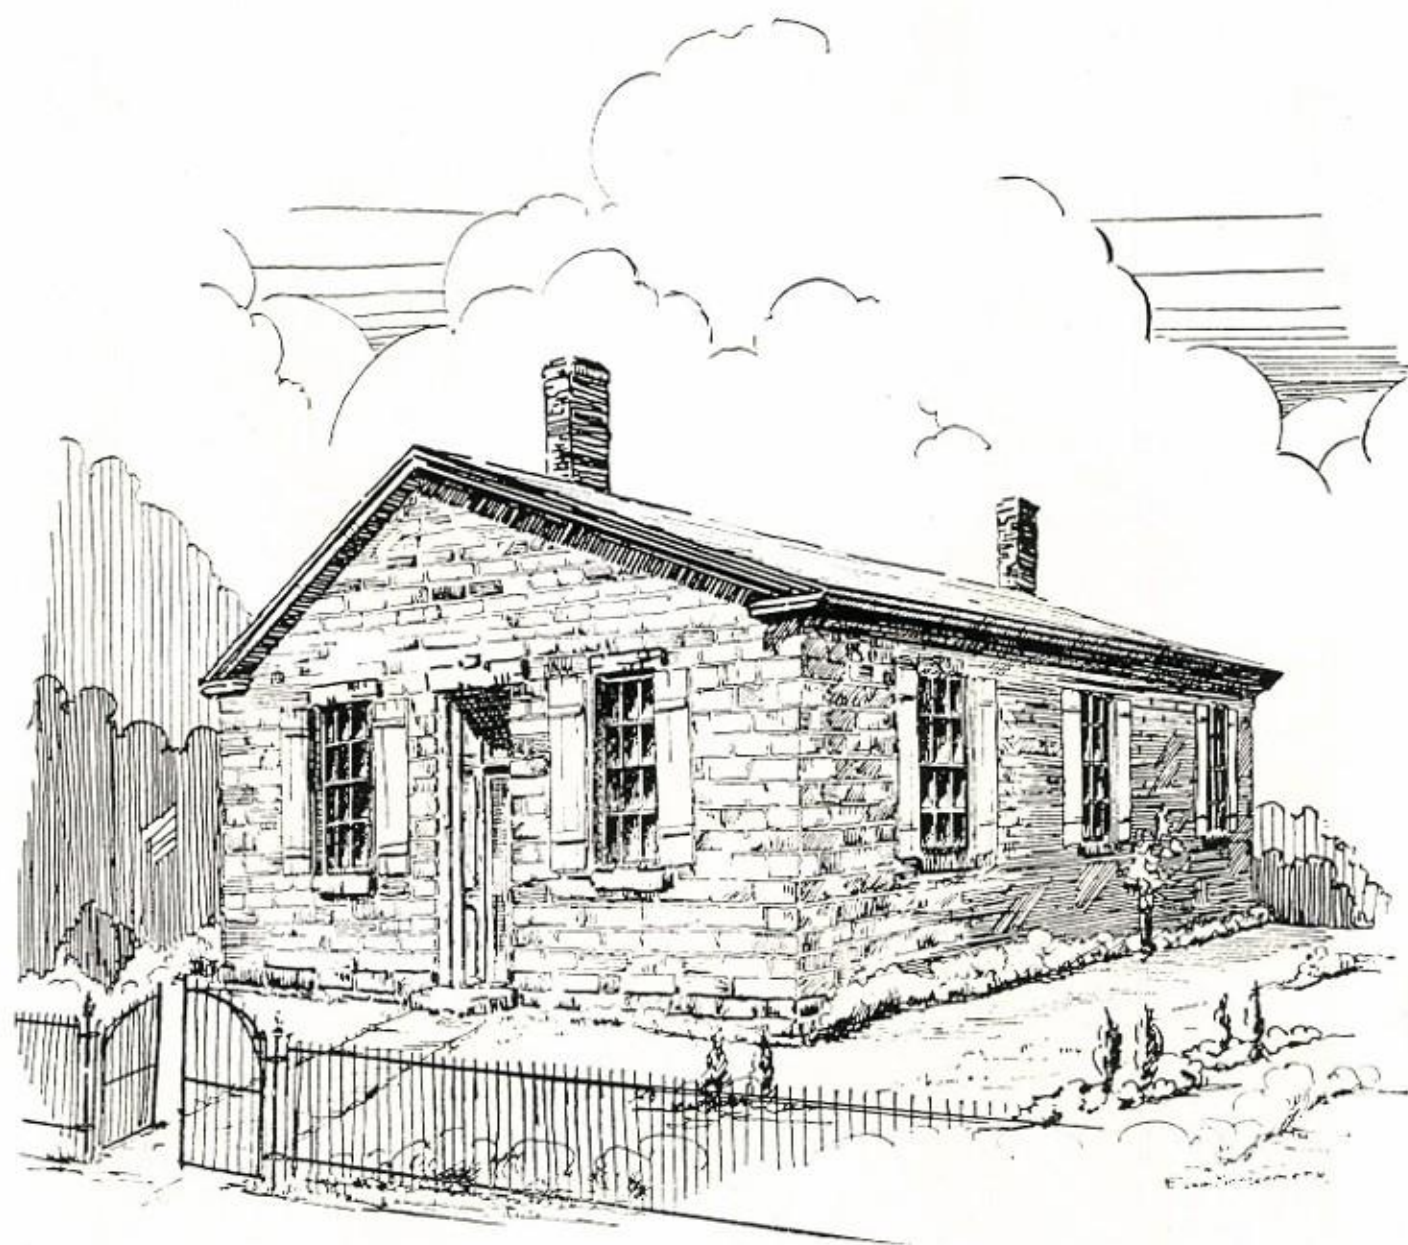

In the life of the Redmen, Portage Path was as important a factor as are the railroads in our life today. Now only a statue, erected by the white men, remains to mark the trail over which so many Indians have passed and re-passed.

ENTRANCE TO PERKINS PARK

Portage Path began at a point on the Cuyahoga river near Old Portage, and continued south-eastwardly through the western and southwestern parts of what is now our city to a point near the canal.

At the time when all this country was wilderness, the old Indian Trail, or "Portage Path", was a part of the ancient line dividing the western Indians and the Indians of the six nations.

THE LITTLE 100-YEAR-OLD SCHOOLHOUSE

Akron's first schoolhouse stands at what is now the corner of Broadway and Buchtel Ave.

FACULTY

TO THE FACULTY

To those who have been our teachers we are grateful.

*"Was there ever a cause too lost,
Ever a cause that was lost too long"*

for their willing help and sympathy?

Years from now, when the reminiscing days have come, we know that we shall still wonder at their patience, abide by their example, and chuckle over their humor.

HISTORY OF CLASS OF JANUARY, 1930

"Order! Will the members of the Class of January, 1930, please come to order? The history of this class has been requested for publication by the Scripps-Howard Editor. By the help of Pearl Camp, we have the history for publication. It will be posted for your final judgment."

Let us take some notations from this history, which traces us from Freshman days onward.

September, 1926—football was in full sway. Then came basketball, and South traveled to Columbus to the tournament, and lost to East High School. Friendship Day called for pennies, dimes, or anything you had. Do you remember the program of Four Headliners, and the Banking Contest in Miss Lind's Room? May Day in 1926 was at Perkins Woods; Miss Louise Foglesong was Queen. Promotion to 9-A at last.

September—football season again. The banking contest closed with a party at the home of one of the members. After that—a lull. Exams and promotion—and then we were 10-B's. Open-house in the Spring. Another Banking Contest took place—this time in Miss Bruderlein's room. This one caused an awful fight as to the winners. The operetta, "The Pennant", was given as the Class Play. May Day, held inside, followed close on the heels of spring. Then promotion came for those who worked and some who copied.

Now this mob had climbed to 10-A. To start the year right we won the Championship title. The combined classes of 403 and 406 had a Wiener Roast at evening near the old water reservoir on the Wooster Avenue hill. A minstrel show was put over and proved to be a success. Exams—and we were 11-B's. South took honors in Track, then got honors on the May Day Program at Perkins with a big Gym exhibition. The practice for this was long and hard. Promotion to 11-A in June.

Fall of 1928—Cavalier Capers turned out to be a big drawing card. Football again in full sway; a tie with Central for Champs gave them the title. We went traveling to Columbus again to the basketball tournament, but Dayton Stivers took the title from South. May Day was held inside—Evelyn Anderson was Queen. Promotion to 12-B in January. The Senior Prom was at Portage Hotel. Class dues began to await us, and officers of the Fatal Senior Class were elected. These officers tried to officiate at the meetings while the arguments on the colors, rings, pins, and sweaters went on undisturbed by authority. Pins and rings arrived. Then there was the Hi-Y Censow dance and the Class Play,—“Whimsy”, featuring none other than Gil Voorhees. Other similar events took their toll and gave us sleepless nights and days in study halls.

The coveted promotion to 12-A came at last. The vacation was too long until we could tell the world we were The Senior Class of January, 1930. Notations from this term include more class meetings (fights), more class dues, sweaters, a program by the Musical Department of South High School, the fate of the “broke” Seniors when buying clothes to “go places in”; Class Day and orchestra, class will, prophecy, history, and surprises. Then came the Prom at the W. C. C., and the Banquet. The last rites of the class were held at the Banquet. And then came the graduation of the Class of Jan. '30. After that, who knows?

CLASS PROPHECY

Here in the crystal, as it slowly clears, I see a mammoth circus, with its billowy tents and busy side shows. A deep-voiced gentleman named Bennie Kosich is the barker. At one side of the show in the small office of the president and general manager, our old class president, John Beckman. Under the big canvas cover Nellie Protich, Frances Pansler, and Alice Kelly have gained renown as aerial performers. A very industrious salesman by the name of Donald Hardesty is endeavoring to sell the spectators peanuts and popcorn. Don always was a high-powered salesman, with that grim determination to make a sale. Ah, he has a customer, who is buying peanuts for the family. It happens to be Mr. and Mrs. Jac Beighey (formerly Margaret Derhammer) and family.

I see another picture—this time a prominent night club and cabaret. The owners are none other than Carl Larson and Bill MacBrair. Sam Thomas is also employed here as "Chief Bouncer." The place is rather dull this evening. Mary McQuaid and Paul Fegancher, popular dance artists, are the featured attractions at the club this week. In one corner of the club there is a large party going on; its members are Kenneth Woods, Sara Smith, Helen Bricker, Frank Yehl, and Alice Klinger.

I see Hollywood. The crystal shows a former schoolmate, Annabelle Dietz, now a famous movie actress. In her latest picture she sings the theme song, "He may be bred in old Kentucky, but he's only a crumb to me." Donald Schlemmer is now editor of one of the Movie-Star Magazines, and is one of the most popular men in Hollywood.

The crystal turns a little and I see a large room furnished with furniture imported from England. On the door is written, "Russell Keller." He is president of a large manufacturing corporation. He is dictating a letter to his secretary, Virginia Shelley, who was an old school flame of his. Mr. Keller's wife (formerly Mardell Wein) and several old classmates of theirs come to call. Rebecca McKee, who is doing feature-writing for the Beacon Journal, calls on him for an interview. Velma Litz, Thelma Lewis, Gerald Richards, and James Schindewolf all call and discuss those happy days spent at South High. I learn that Joe Amrein and Paul Stark are the proprietors of a very popular Ladies' Shoppe.

Gilbert Voorhees and Herman Klein are famous aviators, and each owns his own plane,—at least they have paid the first payments on them. Kathryn Neiheiser and Freda Cutright have a dancing studio. Their specialty is teaching football players to dance. Eugene Sumerix is the owner of a circuit of theaters. Faye Prentice is contemplating swimming the English Channel on her back. Catherine Porter and Eva Mendel have opened up a beauty parlor in New York. Lucille Swigart is doing practice-teaching in a little rural school in Kenmore. Pearl Camp has at last found her man, and is keeping her home nice and cozy for him. John Bellett and Harry Gerin have joined the police force.

Paul Bennett has also been very successful. He has 5,000 men working under him,—but then, I see he is working on the top floor of the B. F. Goodrich Company. Norman Wilhelm, through very hard study in preparing for the ministry, is now pastor of the Furnace Street Mission. Mary Faesko is head nurse at the City Hospital. Ina Crawford and Careta Rogers are head saleswomen at Kresge's Five and Ten Cent store. Kenneth Burrell is now coach at the Jail University, and Ruth Rosenthal is head of the music department. Joe Ambrose has taken a trip abroad to see if there is anything in the Scotch jokes he has heard. Catherine Immel, Marguerite Hess, and Isabel George are members of Flo Ziegfeld's Chorus, 1936. Mary Vinay and Elizabeth Heineman are doing missionary work in Chicago. James Brown is mayor of Barberton. Elizabeth Borostyan is happily married and takes in sewing to occupy her time. Frances Thompson and Agnes Connor have discovered a very easy way to reduce, in six lessons.

For the last time the crystal slowly clouds and my reading comes to an end. But the precious memories of happy days spent at dear Old South High will be imprinted forever in the minds of each and every one of the Class of January, 1930.

CLASS WILL

STUDENTS, FACULTY, AND FUTURE SENIORS:

We, the immortal class of January, 1930, being about to pass out of this institution of learning, in the full possession of an intelligent understanding of all that was taught, and some that wasn't taught, and realizing the sore need of help for the future Seniors, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament, hoping that this dear school may profit by our experience.

PART I

Item I

Our Senior dignity we hand down to our rightful successors, the Class of June, 1930. May they uphold it forever with all seriousness and gravity, endeavoring to realize its vast importance, in spite of their natural light-mindedness and irresponsibility.

Item II

We will to the June Class our Chapel seats; and may they endeavor to fill them as advantageously, as promptly, and as faithfully as we have done. We hope these seats will inspire them to loosen their tongues (as if they aren't loose enough now!) for it seems that they are very shy about their class yell.

PART II

The following may seem but trifling bequests but we hope they may be accepted, not as worthless things carelessly thrown away, but as valuable assets to those who may receive them, and as a continual reminder of the generosity of heart displayed in the bestowal.

1. John Beckman wills his power of ruling the class with an iron hand to Jutz Mihalik (may the June class have as many geniuses at arguing).
2. Virginia Shelley's cheerfulness we leave to Mabel Solomon.
3. Russell Keller and Rebecca McKee will the Manhood and Womanhood cups to any Senior boy and girl that may qualify.
4. Herman Klein wills his ability to do a thousand and one tasks and still lead the class honor roll to whomever wishes it.
5. Joe Amrein and Paul Stark will their ability to pick out good-looking girls to Paul Chapman and Bob Roush.
6. Carl Larson leaves his bashful ways to Vernon Sir Louis.
7. Paul Fegancher's habit of forgetting to shave is left to Lewis Hartz.
8. Freda Cutright wills her secret of keeping slim to Leitha Harr.
9. Harry Gerin's reputation for making every cent count is willed to Harry Coorsh.
10. Frank Yehl's ability to graduate in six years is left to Gene Fink.
11. For five dollars Gil Voorhees will leave his baby Lincoln to Andy Royka so that "she" will not have to walk home in the snow.
12. Bennie Kosich wills his ability to convince the teachers wrong is right and black is white to Claude Drybread.
13. Bill Hieber wills his flat tires to Don Sours.

Besides these gifts we leave, not of necessity, but of our own free-will, our blessings, tender memories of our pleasant associations together, our apology for anything we may not have appreciated in the past, and a pledge of friendship henceforth and forever. We, the class of January, 1930, bid the principal, teachers, and students a most regretful farewell.

(Signed)

CLASS OF JANUARY, 1930.

AU REVOIR

It's always customary
For the class that's leaving school
To conduct themselves like "dumbbells";
We're exceptions to the rule.

We're honored by the faculty,
And there's not a man who's worthy
Who has not observed the wisdom
Of the Class of June '30.

We're equal to 'most anything,
As our records amply show;
And there's little that's worth knowing
Except the things we know.

But there's one thing really beats us,
And that's the farewell speech—
The words with which we bid good-bye—
That each must give to each.

For withal we won't admit it,
Separation is a trial;
We don't just know how to manage
Pretty speeches; so we smile.

—Robert Evans.

CLASS ACHIEVEMENTS

This article will endeavor to give the activities of the graduating class of June, 1930. Limited space does not permit the enumeration of all the activities of every member of the class, since there are 106 members, and approximately 38 types of activities in which they have been engaged. That the June, 1930, class will be missed when graduation takes its toll is taken for granted, but an idea of how much they will be missed may be obtained from the following summary, in which the students will be listed according to the clubs or activities in which they took a prominent part.

The Senior Dramatic Club will lose the most members. They are: Claude Drybread, Berniece Hine, Henry Antes, Adeline Beck, Keith Biechlin, Onnie Boles, Paul Chapman, Berniece Conkel, John Ericson, Warden Green, Grace Hensal, Frank Hickman, Hazel Kepler, Helen Korody, Maxine Tittle, Myranelle Tippet, Dorothy Wilkes, Paul Wetzel, Andy Beres, Fred Brandenstein, Mary Carnahan, Robert Carson, Harold Edwards, Eva Higgins, Leitha Harr, Carl Mazzola, Fred Schmidt, Dorothy Smith, Evelyn Scheiller, and Cathryn Wentsler.

Chemistry has been a popular subject, and twenty-one members have belonged to the Chemistry Club: Carl Zeis, Harry Coorsh, Virginia Brown, Marion Eshack, Rhea Hamann, Frank Hickman, Ferne Holmes, Cornelius Johns, Elizabeth Kendall, Hazel Kepler, Melvin McMasters, Bob Roush, Sarah Schermesser, Mabel Solomon, Dorothy Wilkes, Paul Wetzel, Lucille Wetzel, Leroy Combs, Harold Edwards, Eugene Fink, and Dorothy Smith.

Many of the girls belonged to the Girls' Club: Vonciel Autry, Berniece Hine, Adeline Beck, Virginia Brown, Catherine Danzak, Marion Eshack, Clara Feyzes, Esther Hallauer, Ferne Holmes, Hazel Kepler, Helen Korody, Melva Pollock, Catherine Riffle, Mabel Solomon, Pauline Spinner, Flora Tenison, Maxine Tittle, Margaret Cormany, Isabelle Golz, Vera Hogan, Leitha Harr, Dorothy Hulme, Eva Kazlowsky, Edna Manthey, Auziene Parsons, Eva Reiner, Elizabeth Sekoll, Mary Imrie, Versie Lewis, Ruby Griffen, and Queenie Deering.

Sixteen songbirds will be leaving the Glee Clubs: Adeline Beck, Onnie Boles, Virginia Brown, Paul Chapman, Esther Hollauer, Lewis Hartz, Grace Hensal, Ferne Holmes, Vernon Sir Louis, Maxine Tittle, Dorothy Wilkes, Ernest Ball, Mary Carnahan, Eugene Fink, Eva Higgins, Dorothy Hulme, and Mora Folk.

The National Honor Society, that group whose members are looked upon with extreme envy and approbation, will lose seven members: Keith Biechlin, Virginia Brown, Sarah Schermesser, Fred Brandenstein, Frances Gerberick, Leitha Harr, and Cathryn Wentsler.

The Hi-Y Society will miss Keith Biechlin, Frank Hickman, Bob Roush, Vernon Sir Louis, Julius Mihalik, and Fred Schmidt.

The Sohian, of which this is a part, is published by the Senior classes. Cathryn Wentsler is Editor and Keith Biechlin is Business Manager. June, 1930, has furnished the following members of the staff: Virginia Brown, John Ericson, Esther Hallauer, Frank Hickman, Howard Hedderly, Alex Hardy, Sarah Schermesser, Vernon Sir Louis, Mabel Solomon, Maxine Tittle, Fred Brandenstein, Frances Gerberick, and Leitha Harr.

The members of the Boys' Club are eleven in number: Carl Zeis, Henry Antes, Andy Diehm, Frank Hickman, Glen Howard, Bob Roush, Andy Beres, Fred Brandenstein, Jess Cooper, Bob Evans, and John Eberhart.

CLASS OF JUNE '30

As freshmen first we came to South—
We were as green as grass,
We paid for seats in chapel,
And never flicked a class.

We toiled through a year of study
And many friends were made,
We even forgave the sophomores
For all the tricks they played.

So as Sophomores our career continued
All of us loyal and true,
We struggled hard for everything
And never cried, "We're through!"

Then Juniors! Oh, how big we felt!
Then, indeed, we worked;
But many friends were left behind—
And all of those who shirked.

Four years of high school life have flown,
It's time for us to go,
We hate to leave old South High
Because we love her so.

So on through life our class will go,
On to bigger deeds;
Remember us, is all we ask
When this, our verse, you read.

—Cathryn Wentsler.

NOW AND THEN

If I had been an Indian
 So many years ago,
 I'd surely had a lot of fun
 With my arrow and bow.

I'd catch a string of great big trout
 And eat them for my meal,
 Instead of wasting all my coin
 On a skimpy piece of veal.

My face would be all painted
 As red as any beet;
 And with all my colored feathers,
 Wouldn't I look sweet?

Say, I could have a big canoe
 And paddle it with ease.
 I'd surely never worry over
 Traffic or police.

I could live in peace beneath the trees
 And never think of rent,
 As now I always have to do
 When I haven't got a cent.

But since I am a white man,
 I s'pose I must abide
 In this smoky, noisy city,
 And keep up with the times.

B

The W. W. E., or We Will Excel, the Freshman Honor Society, is a club organized to promote better scholarship among the Freshmen.

The club was organized in September, 1925, with the following regulations:

Any Freshman who has received grades of 85 or above during one grading period is eligible for membership during the next period. If he falls below 85 during the next grading period, he is automatically dropped.

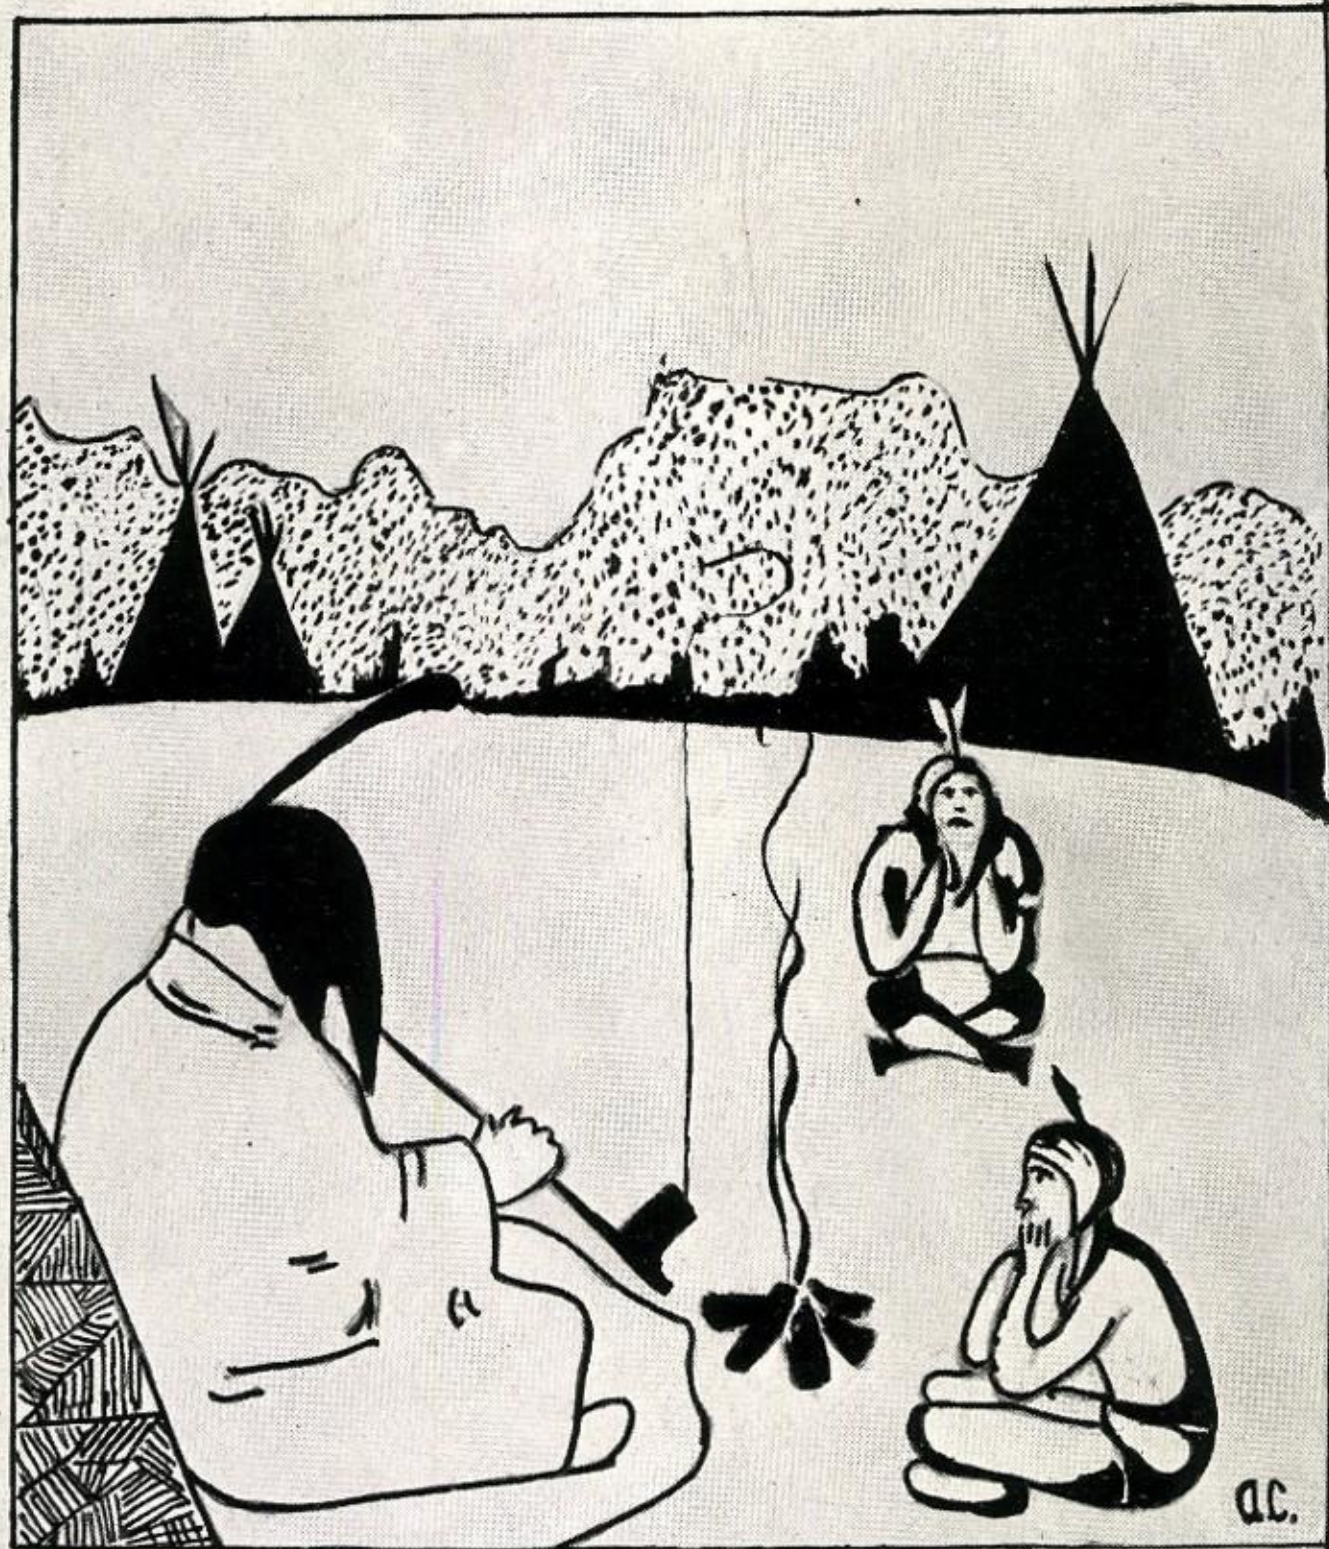

If all grades are maintained for one semester, the student receives a silver "B" pin; and if that standard is held for a year, the silver "B" pin is exchanged for a gold "B."

Any student receiving grades of 90 or above will receive an "A" pin instead of a "B." These pins are received under the same conditions as the "B" pin.

Any student who has received an honor pin is considered a member throughout the entire four years of high school.

The Freshman room which has the highest average receives a silver loving cup, which it holds until the average of another room surpasses it.

Mater

There's a name that we ev-er love to hear, Bring it fame, it can nev-er be more dear!
 Blue and white, of the heav-en's own are they! True and right will they keep us all the way!

Day by day, if skies be dark or fair, In our hearts that happy name we wear!
 'Ma-ter dear, thy hon-or is our own! Year by year thy bless-ings more are shown!

Chorus -

O, South High, come cheer the white and blue; O, South High, thy sons and daughters true,

O, South High, our best to thee we bring, O, dear South High to thee, our loyal voices ring!

Marching Song

Moderato - Slow March tempo

○ we're from dear old South High - The school to us most dear -

It's the place we love the best, Fin-est school in East or West, So we will hail the name we all revere; We love our Al-ma Ma-ter, Her glo-ries we- will tell -

In ev-ry-thing we take the lead, Sport and thought and no-ble deed, And so for South High School we give our yell, (Rah! Spoken)

The musical score is written for a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 6/8. The tempo is marked 'Moderato - Slow March tempo'. The lyrics are written below the vocal line. The piano part consists of chords and single notes in both hands. The score is divided into four systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The lyrics are: '○ we're from dear old South High - The school to us most dear -', 'It's the place we love the best, Fin-est school in East or West, So we will hail the name we all re-', 'vere; We love our Al-ma Ma-ter, Her glo-ries we- will tell -', and 'In ev-ry-thing we take the lead, Sport and thought and no-ble deed, And so for South High School we give our yell, (Rah! Spoken)'. The piano part includes dynamic markings like 'mf' and 'f', and articulation like 'acc' (accents). The final system ends with a 'Spoken' instruction for the word 'Rah!'.

Chorus.

Sopranos and tenors sing small notes.

The musical score is written for a four-part chorus (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and piano accompaniment. It consists of four systems of music, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 4/4. The lyrics are as follows:

Rah!) So here's to old South High! Loud we will sing!
 To old South High where e'er we roam Our praises we will bring!
 So here's to old South High! Join with a will We'll pledge our best, We'll stand the test For South High School.

The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. The vocal lines are written in a simple, accessible style, with the Soprano and Tenor parts often singing small notes as indicated in the instruction.

THE CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

"The Little Town of Bethlehem," written by Constance D'Arcy Mackay, was given Friday afternoon, December 20.

The Pageant, published in the "Woman's Home Companion" of December, 1918, was given for the first time at South during the Christmas season of that year. It has been given every year since 1918, and in recent years two performances have been given to accommodate South High students and patrons.

South High's Pageant is simple in its setting, but unusually effective. The background of the deep blue night, the shining star, the rude stable, shocks of corn, and fir trees beautifully portray the first Christmas in Judea.

Teachers who assisted the production this year were: Miss Powell, Miss Babb, Miss Dorn, Miss Dackerman, and Miss Koontz.

This year a few changes were made in the presentation. The Glee Clubs carried candles as they marched in. While marching, they sang "Hark the Herald Angels" to the accompaniment of a quartet of clarinets. The songs of the pageant were: "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear." When the kings entered the stable, a solo was sung by three members of the club as each king entered. While the shepherds entered the stable, the Glee Club sang "While Shepherds Watched." A solo, "Star of the East," was sung by Miss Dorn. The children of the poor and humble folk were admitted to the humble stable while the Glee Club sang "Away in the Manger." A violin and cornet solo announced the entrance of the Angels. As the notes died away the kings, the shepherds, and the children came out slowly and knelt in the entrance. The Glee Clubs sang, "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Then slowly the three kings, the shepherds, the children, and the angels left the stage. Then the Glee Clubs left, singing, "Joy to the World," and the pageant was over.

MAY DAY

Villagers in peasant costumes, dancers, soldiers, wrestlers, tumblers, buffoons, masqueraders dressed as animals, fauns, archers, with Robin Hood himself and Little John—all took part in the procession on May Day, which was held on Friday the 17th, 1929.

Five musicians led the procession up the center aisle to the stage where the queen was crowned. Two soldiers fought to the finish, and the wrestlers gave a match. The others all came in order and were accompanied by much applause and laughter. The festival finished with the presentation of flowers given by the freshmen girls to the Seniors.

THE MUSICAL SOHIANS

On Friday evening, November 22, the musical department of South High presented a program in the school auditorium.

The program was divided into six parts: The Revolutionary War period, Plantation Life, the Civil War period, the Spanish-American War period, the World War period, and the Modern period.

The Revolutionary War section consisted of songs representative of that period of American history, sung by the 9-B Chorus. A minuet, by a group of girls from the physical training department, was also a feature. The division on Plantation Life was made up of plantation songs and a dance, the plantation shuffle. The songs were by the Colored Glee Clubs of South. Songs characteristic of the Civil War made up the next period, together with a dance by two girls from the gym classes. The songs were sung by the 9-A Chorus. The Boys' Glee Club sang the songs of the Spanish-American war period. Some of the songs popular during the World War were sung by the Advanced Chorus, and pyramid building by members of the gym classes completed this section of the program. The modern period consisted of songs popular at the present time sung by the Girls' Glee Club. A Pierrette dance by a group from the girls' gym classes was performed at the completion of this division.

The program was concluded by the entire group singing "America's Message."

The musical part of the program was directed by Miss Dackerman, and the dances by Miss Moore.

WOMANHOOD AND MANHOOD CUPS

The Womanhood and Manhood cups were awarded to Rebecca McKee and Russell Keller, respectively, at meetings held by the seniors during the week of January 13, 1930.

The Womanhood Cup was presented to South High by the "S" Club, and the Manhood Cup by the Hi-Y of South.

In awarding the Womanhood cup, voting is done by the 12th grade girls. Any girl may vote for any person she chooses. The names of the ten having the highest number of votes are turned over to a committee. This committee is composed of six people: three girls, one representing the "S" Club, one the Girls' Club, and one the Girl Reserves; three teachers, Miss Maider, Miss Babb, and Miss Moore.

This committee votes for five out of ten. Then the names of the five are brought before the 12th grade girls and they vote again. The one receiving the highest number of votes is the winner. The points on which they are judged are: character, scholarship, and service to the school.

The custom of presenting the Womanhood cup is not so old as that of presenting the Manhood cup. The cup was first awarded in January, 1929, and was won by Ruth Beese. Nell Durham received it in June, 1929.

Previous winners of the Manhood cup are: Edward Klipstein, who won it in both his 12-B and 12-A year at South, and who graduated in June, 1925; Ancel Hersman, January, 1926; Kenneth Sweet, June, 1926; Shirley Pickens, January, 1927; Andrew Sauer, June, 1927; Cecil Rogers, January, 1928; Ray Sheppard, June, 1928; Clyde Hedderly, January, 1929; and John Pamer, June, 1929.

HOME AND SCHOOL LEAGUE

The Home and School League of South High School is an association between the parents and teachers. It is organized for the purpose of better acquainting the mothers with what is being accomplished by the pupils and teachers of the school and to bring the home and the school in closer contact.

The League meets on the second Tuesday of each month. All business matters are transacted first, leaving the greater part of the time for a program. This is usually followed by a social hour.

The programs during the past two semesters have been very interesting. Following is the complete program for each month during the entire session of Home and School League meetings of 1929-1930:

HOME AND SCHOOL LEAGUE PARTY

A dance and bunco party sponsored by the South High Home and School League was held at the People's Dairy, on Friday evening, November the fifteenth.

Four prizes for bunco were given. The ladies' first prize, a silk handkerchief, was won by Mrs. Modesitt, and the men's first prize, an Eversharp pencil, was won by Henry Antes. Consolation prizes, games of "Catch the Rat," were awarded to Alberta Williams and Albert Barnes.

Dancing followed the games, music for which was furnished by an orchestra composed of Eileen Franz, Fleming Atha, Kenneth Repogle, and Dorothy Schlemmer.

Students who attended the affair were enthusiastic about the evening.

BANKING

Donna Lower of room 209 has charge of banking at South, under the supervision of Miss Robinson.

The Senior rooms are always among the highest. Room 107, a freshman room, usually has had the highest percentage. At one time last semester, 107 had a mark of 104%, the only room to reach 100% or over. Room 416 was next with a mark of 96%.

South and East contest for first place among the schools, East being the only school to exceed South all last semester.

South Elementary usually is in first place with an average of 100%.

O. B. A.—"OUR BEST ALWAYS"

O. B. A., which was organized in September, 1928, is the name of the grade school honor society at South.

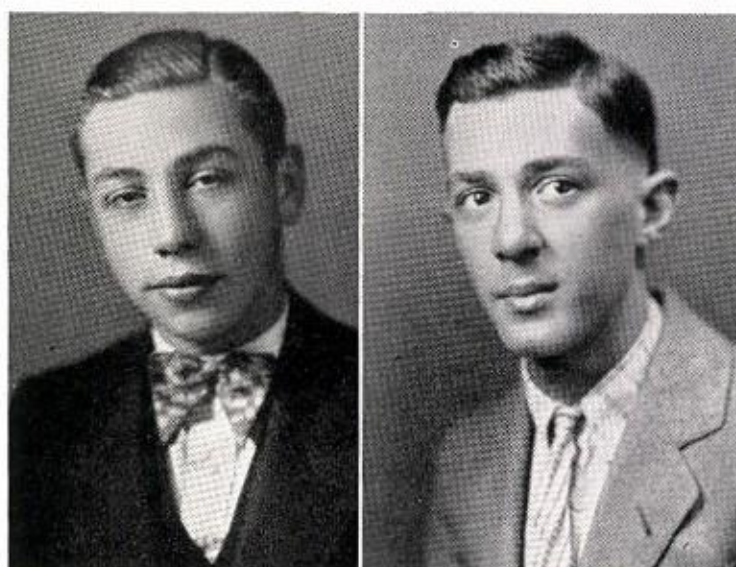

Pupils having an average of 85% or above, with not more than one grade as low as 80, are eligible for membership.

A scholarship pennant is presented at the close of each grading period to the room having the highest average.

This furnishes a real inspiration to boys and girls who wish to excel in scholarship, and creates a friendly rivalry between members of the various classes.

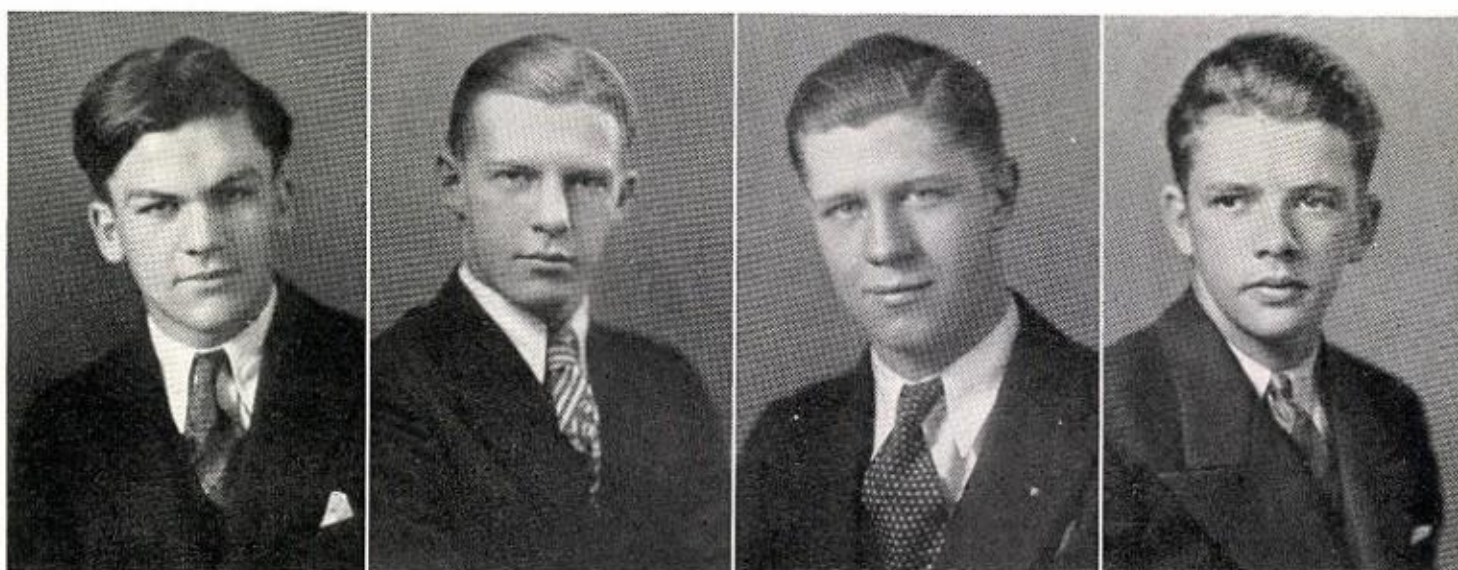

Pupils who are enrolled in O. B. A. look forward to becoming members of W. W. E. in high school.

On January 24 the following students were given recognition for good scholarship: William Crall, Marie Nemith, Flossie Lucas, Margaret Fiatal, Margaret Petras, Emma Rouse, and Yee Hong Woo.

THE CAVALIER

The Cavalier was begun in the fall of 1922 by the Sojourn Club, a club which had as its object the study of journalism. The following were officers of the club: President, Isaac Keen; Vice-Pres., Gladys Carhart; Secretary, Dorothy Roeger.

Before October, 1925, the Cavalier had been printed outside of South. Now it is printed in the school print-shop. The printing was first supervised by L. B. Watson; since November, 1926, it has been under the supervision of L. W. Cole.

Miss Babb was the adviser of the paper for the first two years; Mr. Switzer for the following four years. Miss Babb resumed her former position and has held this office for the past two years. There are six bound volumes of the Cavalier, each containing a year's work.

The present staff consists of: Leroy Combs, Editor; Frank Hickman, Assistant Editor; Henry Antes, Business Manager; Harold Edwards, Sports Editor. Those in the class are: Fleming Atha, Fred Brandenstein, Bob Carson, Irene Ewerth, Michael Filing, Eugene Fink, Hubert Griggs, Alfons Josis, Wilbur Johnson, Elizabeth Kendall, Edgar Leiffer, Israel Levine, Frank Martinkus, Vernon Sir Louis, Mildred Smead, Fred Warman, Carl Zeis.

The purpose of the Cavalier is not only to relate news happenings but also to have a complete and true record of events concerning South High School.

GERALD RICHARDS, January, 1930, has won attention in the field of art. He has served as Art Editor of the Sohian, and has lent a hand at making stage scenery. He has a knowledge, both technical and appreciative, of the principles of various forms of art. He is of that rare type that can so quietly and productively work with few directions.

VIRGINIA HELFER, June, 1933, is an exceptional student in Home Economics. She has always received excellent grades in cooking—and other subjects too. She is generally liked for her quiet, orderly ways and her persistence in accomplishing things which must be done. We feel that she deserves honorable mention in "Who's Who."

CATHERINE PORTER, January, 1930, is one of the few superior students in Commercial work. In typing she has been awarded a certificate and the coveted gold pin. In comptometer she has attained the distinction of being awarded a certificate and a bronze pin for perfect work. She is also excellent in Shorthand and is able to take rapid dictation.

RAWLE CHRISTMAN, June, 1930, deserves honorable mention in the field of English. All through High School he has excelled in this subject. He has a deeper insight than most into poetry and also into the interpretation of the characterization of the drama. As a whole he has a very good interpretation of literature. His quiet unobtrusive manner has given him many friends.

MARGARET PFAFF, January, 1931, deserves honorable mention in foreign languages. She has studied Latin and Spanish and received unusually high grades. Not only in languages, however, has she excelled, but she has been outstanding in all subjects. She was taken into the "National Honor Society" in her 11-A year.

INA CRAWFORD, January, 1930, was one of the few outstanding history students at South. Her ability to understand a project or situation as a whole, and at the same time to determine upon and analyze the heart of the subject, has made her an exceptional student in this field. Her understanding and appreciation of the problems that had to be met by our predecessors have made her work especially noteworthy. In addition to this, Ina was constantly doing more work than was assigned. After all, that is the mark of the unusual student.

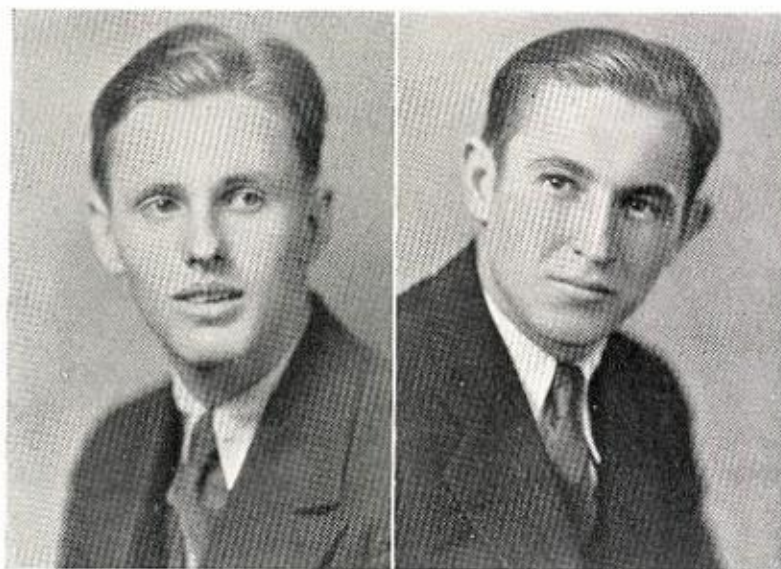

CARLYLE AMBELANG, June, 1931, has been an outstanding scholar in all his studies. In mathematics he has eclipsed his contemporaries and acquired a basis for advanced mathematics. He has never been known to come to class unprepared, no matter how difficult the task. He well deserves a place in "Who's Who."

MEREDITH WEIL, June, 1931, is an exceptional student in the field of science. His precision and his love of the subject have elevated him to prominence. It also must be noted that Meredith has been a remarkable student in all his subjects.

IRENE EWERTH (right) and GRACE HENSAL, both of the June class of 1930, have always been prominent in athletics. They have taken part in all meets, gym exhibitions, and May Days. They are both members of the "S" Club, Grace having acted as Vice President and President, and Irene as Secretary and President. They have participated in basketball, fist ball, volley ball, pin ball, hockey, and tumbling, and have both received a large and a small "S".

JACK BEIGHEY (left) and BENNIE KOSICH, January, 1930, have always been prominent in gymnasium work. They are both members of the "Boys' Gym Club," Bennie having acted in the capacity of President twice and Jack once. They have both won first place in apparatus at different times in the Summit County Meet. Without their efforts the Boys' Gym Club would have been merely a name.

CLASS PLAY

The three-act farce-comedy, "Stop Thief", was presented by the class of January, 1930, and the Senior Dramatic Club of South High, on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 13 and 14. The play was directed by Miss Mary Hamilton. The cast of characters was as follows:

Joan Carr—Mardell Wein; Mrs. Carr—Faye Prentice; Caroline Carr—Annabelle Dietz; Madge Carr—Virginia Shelley; Nell—Sara Smith; William Carr—John Beckman; James Cluney—Russel Keller; Mr. Jamison—William Hieber; Dr. Willoughby—Herman Klein; Rev. Mr. Spelain—Norman Wilhelm; Jack Doogan—Gilbert Voorhees; Joe Thompson—Harry Gerin; Sergeant of Police—Bennie Kosich; Police Officer Clancy—Sam Thomas.

The play was repeated on Monday evening, December 16, under the auspices of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Approximately $200 was realized. The money was divided between the Senior Dramatic Club and the class.

Music was furnished by the courtesy of the South High orchestra.

Front Row: Harr, Biechlin, Wentsler, Hickman, Boles.

“Adam and Eva” is the title of a three-act comedy which will be given by the June Senior Class, on May 9th and 10th, at South High School.

The characters are as follows:

James King, a rich man	Keith Biechlin
Adam Smith, his business manager	Frank Hickman
Eva King, his youngest daughter	Cathryn Wentsler
Julia De Witt, his oldest daughter	Leitha Harr
Clinton De Witt, his son-in-law	Carl Mazzola

Lord Andrew Gordon, his would-be-son-in-law	John Ericson
Dr. Jack Delamater, his neighbor	Andy Beres

The play is being directed by Miss Dorothy Powell and staging is being done by Miss Lois Babb.

The proceeds are to be given to the Senior Dramatic Club and the Senior Class. The class play is a semi-annual affair of great importance to both the undergraduates and the Senior classes.

WAITING

It seems so long till summer comes,
That's how it seems to me.
It seems so long a time to wait
Till I again can climb a tree.

LEWIS HELFRICH,
10-B.

YOU AND I

If I had been an Indian,
Long, long ago,
I'd made a swing high in a tree,
And rocked me to and fro.
I'd have roamed the cool dark woods
With my small knife and my bow,
And shot at knots and pine-cones,
And scalped my own shadow.
And explored the chattering streams
In my bark canoe;
And for a companion,
I'd have called to you.
Then would you have come with me
Long, long ago?
Or would you have laughed at me?
How can I ever know?

LUCILLE KAHLOR,
10-B.

AN INDIAN'S SUMMER

If I had been an Indian,
With my roof the star-lit sky,
I could have watched the summer nights
Go slipping slowly by.
I'd have sat and listened
To the hum and drone of bees,
And watched the morning sunlight
Come sifting through the trees.

ANDY DIEHM,
11-A.

THE HUNTER

If I had been an Indian
And walked the forest paths,
I'd not have killed the deer and bear—
Nor shot the little rabbit there.
The deer and bear I'd left unharmed
Where I, the Indian, went,
But I'd have made a garden
Around my peaceful tent.

OTIS FARMER,
10-B.

FRIENDS

One night alone at loss I mused
And looked upon the books unused.
Red and green and brown and buff,
Rows and rows of useless stuff!
I weakened, and I took a book
Which only time had ne'er forsook.
And lo, he took me hand in hand;
I joined that carefree vagabond band.
We took the king's money, we took the king's deer,
We would give it to others, then disappear.
My eyes were clear, my legs were strong,
Life came, life went—a beautiful song.
Our domain was as Richard's, and the earth, the sky,
We plundered together, fair Robin and I.

—ROBERT HYNOR,
10-A.

AIR CASTLES

I want to be an aviator
And sail the skies above,
Just to be a navigator
Among the things I love.
I want to meet the sun and moon
When I go sailing high;
And perhaps a little star or two—
And bring back from the sky
A bit of blue for a summer gown,
A cloud for a scarf and hat,
And skim the cream from the milky way
To please my Maltese cat.

VERA MASON,
10-B.

A HYMN

The untired sun from day to day
Does his Creator's power display;
And shows to those in every land
The work of an Almighty Hand.

—ELMER HUBBARD,
10-B.

"VALUES"

I want to be an Indian!
 And, if please, should my soul be suffered
 transmigration,
 Do give it lodging in the heart of a youthful, strong, and carefree Indian.
 You know the kind—a Hiawatha.
 There must be Nokomis and the moon,
 The stars, the trees, and flowers,
 The birds, the deer,
 The rivers and lakes, and—Minnehaha.
 "Traitor!" you cry.
 Then do you start a veritable eulogy
 Of life, and great and noble deeds;
 Of citizenship; of progress;
 Thence of knowledge—oh, oh, stop!
 That word progress, it overpowers the senses
 Like a hypodermic shot.
 The head a sinking meteor
 Severed, it leaps and bounds
 Through strange and heavy atmospheres.
 The breath comes hard in long and wheez-
 ing gasps.
 The eyes squint dully at a soiled and sooty
 sky,
 A grimy, greased-up garden—was that Eden?
 Knowledge. Science. These the swords
 You dangle at my face while so you taunt,
 "Petty dreamer, still you yearn for false
 ephemeral worlds?"
 You seek for wonder, blind you are when
 Iron-sheathed giants that meet the sky
 With thousand gleaming eyes at night
 Do scorn and mock the Parthenon."
 Yet have you but begun.
 I shrink and shrivel, shamed.
 But I did want the clear blue sky, the God
 in Indian days,
 The deep, blue dimitied bosom of the heavens
 Bereft of haggled silken robes,
 You see 'twas but a dream;
 How dared I give it voice?
 Deep in my soul, a whisper, yet
 I want to be an Indian!

—IRENE SALAI,
12-A.

SONGS

The babbling brook is free again
 To travel on its way;
 And meadow larks are back again
 With songs so sweet and gay.
 I think if I could be a bird
 Within God's leafy world,
 I'd sing and sing of nothing else
 But spring and flowers unfurled.

JAMES GREENLEE,
11-A.

THE RAG MAN

He has a beard and his clothes are old;
 His shoes are worn and full of holes;
 His wagon makes a lot of noise
 Like a gang of mischievous boys;
 His call is heard throughout the street
 Soft as sound of shuffling feet.

—PETER PAKZTIS,
10-B.

THE EARLY BIRD

When Father takes his spade to dig,
 Then Robin comes along;
 He sits upon a little twig
 And sings a little song.
 Or, if the trees are rather far,
 He does not stay alone,
 But comes up close, where we are,
 And hops upon a stone.

—MARGERY ZIGLER,
10-B.

PERHAPS

If I had been an Indian
 Way back in '76,
 I would have had a camp-fire
 Made of many sticks.
 And when the white man came with guns
 And billowy wagons white,
 I would have taught him how to fish,
 And thought him quite all right.
 I would have shown him how to hunt
 And swim; and when he felt
 That I was mild, perhaps I might Have tied his scalp to my belt.

—EVELYN HOOVER,
11-A.

MY WORLD

When skies are blue and balmy
 And soft the breezes blow,
 And the birds are warbling gaily—
 That is the world I know.
 I walk through fields enchanted
 Of beauty ever rare,
 Through wondrous miles of grass and leaf
 And know no woe or care.
 We have a thought to ponder
 On how this came to be.
 From the Keeper-of-all-things, far above,
 It seems quite clear to me.

ANDREW REISINGER,
10-B.

I should love to be an artist,
 And have wings to fly the air
 Until I found a pretty spot
 To paint a picture fair.
 There I would paint a masterpiece—
 A masterpiece so rare
 That every one would marvel
 At the colors glowing there.

—FERNE STOMBAUGH,
10-B.

MY PET

Bobby is a pretty canary, with feathers gold as the sun and black as the night. In his cage, this happy little songster hops about from perch to perch the whole day through.

When I am about, Bobby refuses to sing much unless I talk to him. Sometimes I count for him. He sings when I say "two" or "three" after a series of numbers.

On cloudy days, there is only one cure for Bobby's drowsiness. A few turns of the egg-beater makes him angry and then he sings. His singing is missed so much that I have worn out two egg-beaters in this way.

Bobby takes up entirely too much time. Unless someone holds it for him, he refuses to eat lettuce or celery. Perhaps he has grown accustomed to this attention, or maybe it just pleases his vanity. Anyway it is hard to refuse the mute appeals of such a lovable creature.

I am sorry to say that Bobby does not have any manners. Even though he has been told it is impolite, he still persists in making a funny little noise in his throat when he eats. Scolding Bobby has no effect on him. Therefore I shall be forced to leave this one shadow to cast its dark reflection on Bobby's joyous little being.—Frieda Dodson.

COMMENCEMENT IMPRESSIONS

There was never such a night! This is the unvarying opinion of all those who have ever participated in a high school commencement. Other experiences may be more glamorous, more successful, but the high school commencement is unique, in that it is an unrepeatable incident in one's life. It is the formal exit from childhood to young womanhood and manhood. Of course, to the graduate there is no such serious interpretation of the event. Sentiments and serious contemplations, the code of youth decrees, must be hidden under a mask of hilarity and action.

No detail of the exercises is deemed more important than the decoration of the stage. The class colors are generously exhibited in flowers and streaming ribbons of crepe paper, arranged by the boys of the decorating committee. After a wild rushing about for forgotten materials, and after arrangements, rearrangements, and disarrangements have been made, according to the dictum of each and every one present, the stage is ready. Careless bantering and joking stop for a moment as a last review is made. There is the motto proudly raised above the stage; the ferns and flowers across the front of the platform; the white ribboned basket for the diplomas. The basket seems quite elegantly conscious of its importance. Is it not almost a tradition of the schools? Has not its ribboned splendor graced innumerable commencements?

The boys at length shuffle out of the school. A last loud laugh echoes through the corridors and drifts back to the auditorium. Then, silence. A great, round, curious sun glances in at the interesting stage, enriching the colorful ribbons and flowers with a soft dancing light, and flickering across the backs of the waiting empty chairs.

Graduation night, a counter display for assorted human emotions—mother love, repressing streaming eyes; fatherly pride, struggling to loose itself from control; and school love, the union of teachers' and pupils' hearts, strengthened by struggles and triumphs in a common cause.

And now the ordeal. Some one hundred and six young hearts thump fiercely. The air becomes stifling. A nervous hand for the thousandth time pokes the soft waves of a perfect marcel. A member of the board of education beams benediction on the "youth of this generation." A speaker rises, moves rather clumsily to the center of the platform, and, setting his chin determinedly forward, begins grimly. An old woman in the audience nods her head rhythmically as the frightened young speaker hurries on. Vaguely he realizes his voice had ended in a weak squeak in that last forceful question; that he could not gracefully use his handkerchief. Then he gropes for his chair again.

The orchestra affords a few minutes respite. Now the precious diplomas are held fast in moist warm hands.

The orchestra plays a concluding number, and the audience begins to disperse. Old friends linger; one or two of the girls cry.

Reluctantly the graduates leave the school, with a haunting impression of blurred familiar faces, and the commencement becomes but an experience to be recalled in future reminiscences.—Irene Salai, 12-A.

A DIARY OF EARLY AKRON

(After the manner of John Winthrop's Journal, 1630-1649)

Dec. 1, 1790ⁱ—The people gathered last night at Mr. T's house and went to a new-found bee-tree. We made a great fire, about which sat the children while we cut the tree down. There was enough of the new honey so that every one was loaded.

Dec. 3—The corn being none too plentiful, and we being unwilling to butcher the swine and sheep, we went to the river at nightfall, carrying a burning pine knot, and paddled to where the trees were thick. At once two eyes shone out. I fired and paddled to the shore. Thus we were able to bring back two deer, which will be enough for the time.

March 16—This day the men of the country around gathered to begin the new school-house. It is intended to have it ready for the summer term.

March 23—Traded ten furs for a copper kettle from a settler who is going back East.

March 27—Hearing a pig squeal, I ran out of the house and found it fighting a bear. I fired and the bear went back into the woods.

April 3—A hunter of the forest killed a large bear last night, after an hour's fight with a knife. In the body were found my bullets as well as those of ten other farmers.

April 7—The trapper-doctor took leave to-day as he is going West where it is not so crowded.

April 11—A sachem, Wam-pe-tek, of the tribe on the shore of Turkeyfoot Lake disappeared last year after a quarrel with a trapper. Last night his whoop was heard ring through the forest by a passing settler.

April 17—I have finished cutting up the stumps. The ground is rich, but it is full of roots.

April 22—A family from Connecticut arrived to-day by ox-team, and brought four sheep and three swine, the rest having died on the four months' trip.

May 26—Indians are gathering at their villages and show signs of moving.

May 30—Have brought the family and animals to the village. There we found the men strengthening the block-house and preparing for an attack.

May 31—More settlers have arrived. Captain M. in command of the fort has sent out scouts to learn of the Indians.

June 1—Scouts returned this morning. Unable to learn anything of plans. More preparations.

June 2—The Indians have departed!

REVIEW OF FOOTBALL SEASON FOR 1929

The football season of 1929 can hardly be called a joyous one from the standpoint of games won, but Coach Wargo, who was here at South for his first year, did well with the boys and made a fighting team out of them. The crowds followed South despite its losses.

The first game was with Cleveland Heights at League Park, where South played most of its home games. We were out to average the defeat they had handed us last year, but after outplaying them for three-quarters, they scored a lone touchdown to beat us 7-0.

Then came a so-called "easy" game that wasn't so easy. It was the game with Kent Roosevelt at Kent. Those of you who were there can remember how our team ran for six touchdowns and only 2 counted, because the rest were called back. We won 12-0.

Then we met a real test in Canton McKinley, and there is no other out-of-town team we would rather have beaten than Canton. They came here primed to beat us badly; they won, but they had a hard time, and everybody knows we played them off their feet. Score 14-0.

Next we went to Wooster, where we were downed 13-7.

On a fine warm day we went to Massillon. A large crowd was there to back the team, undiscouraged because South had been losing. Right at the start Massillon marched for a touchdown; there Red Hickman came into prominence, for he scooped up a fumble and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. But Massillon later marched to our 30 yard line, and from there kicked a placement that hit the bar and went over. We lost again, 10-6.

Then began the games that counted in the city series. Our first game was with Central. The team, after being behind 13 points at the half, came back, scored 12 points, and was ready for another touchdown when the game ended. We found ourselves with a one-point loss, 13-12.

East, who had beaten us out of a championship last year, came next. The field was muddy, and the ball slippery; the game ended in a 0-0 tie.

The black and gold team from North was next and they had a real team. They beat us 14-7, having made a 105-yard run for their second touchdown.

Next we played Garfield. We led the first half 6-0. The second half Garfield started to pass. Ted Vargo intercepted one and ran 90 yards for a score. The score stood at 12-0 the third quarter, then Garfield scored a touchdown, got heated to fighting pitch, and blocked Gabalac's punt. They fell on the ball over the goal line and made the kick to beat us, 13-12.

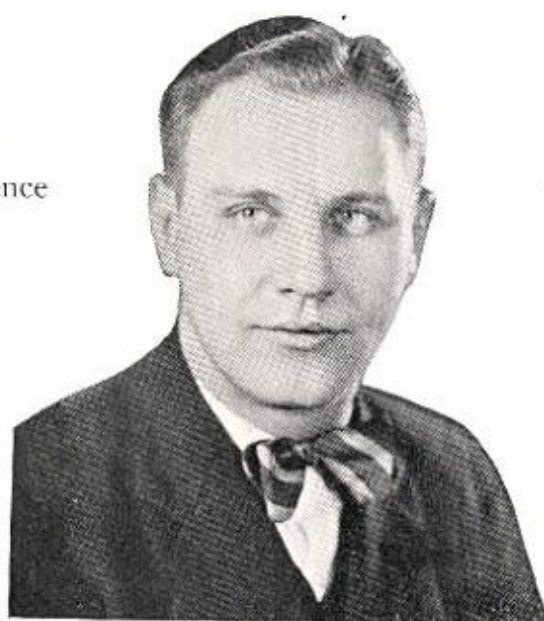

The scores do not half tell the stories of the game, because we scored 76 points to our opponents' 84, a difference of only 8 points. We won 2 games, lost 7, and tied one, so we didn't look at the number of games won, we looked at the fight those boys were putting up the whole 60 minutes of the game.

BASKETBALL

Julius Mihalik—"Jutz". This was "Jutz's" first and last year on the squad. He played his part to perfection.

Thomas Porter—"Tom". Tom was always ready for the ball when it came his way. He wasn't a scoring threat but his fine pass work featured. Tom will be back next year.

Oral Huth—When it came to playing center, Oral was a star. He was the big man of the team and on him rested our hopes of retaliation. This was his first and last year on the team.

Vernon Sir Louis—"Vernie". Vernie, Captain, was one of our most valuable men. He played two years of varsity basketball. He was rewarded by being placed on the All-City team this year. We lose him this spring.

Roger Rogerson—"Roge". When the critical moments came along, "Roge" could be depended upon; he always "delivered the goods."

Fred Orcutt—"Fritz". "Fritz" was a hard player. When he got the ball it was ours. He bids fair to become one of the heroes of basketball fame. He will be missed next year.

Frank Gabalac—"Gabby". Gabby played guard, and checked his opponents vigilantly, never letting them score. His love for the game made him a man to be depended upon.

Coach Frank ("Doc") Wargo. South High must feel highly honored to have the services of such an able coach as "Doc" Wargo. The squad of this year was his first at South, and there are no doubts as to its worth.

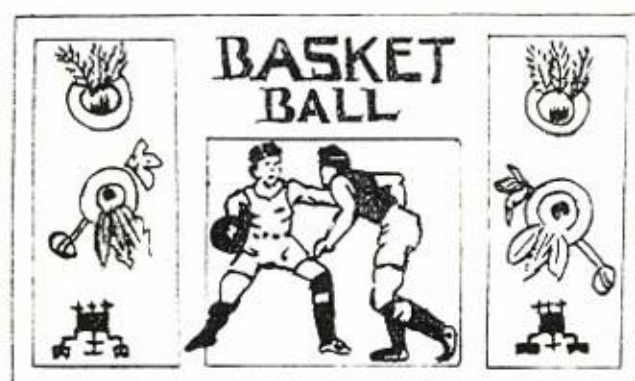

Lawrence Foley—"Larry". Larry became eligible just at the beginning of the new semester, but when he did get in he showed he had the makings of a basketball star.

James Tarson—"Jimmy". Jimmy could be counted upon to do his duty, whenever he was called. He is a Junior and we shall see more of him next year.

William Anderson—"Bill". Because Bill is only a Sophomore, he didn't play often, but we knew he was there, rooting for South.

George Smith—Mgr. George played just as hard as any of the boys who were on the floor.

Howard Tracy—Ass't Mgr.—As much can be said of Tracy as was said of Smith.

THE SEASON IN BASKETBALL

When Coach Wargo sounded the call for basketball candidates, early in December, about one hundred boys responded.

With a letterman and five second-team men back, a fairly successful season was assured.

The first game of the season was played against St. Mary's. Our team scored enough points to win, 23 to 14. The following week we played the Alumni and lost. The Blue and White beat Cleveland East Tech, 25 to 23. Next we won from two Cleveland teams, Heights and Glenville. Salem proved too good for us and we lost in an overtime period, 23 to 21. The game at Cuyahoga Falls was all ours; the final count was 30 to 15 in our favor. Canton, our old rivals, beat us 31 to 27, but we came back to win from Cleveland South 32 to 24. We lost to Sharon 31 to 20, but started the city series well by defeating Central, 25 to 19. Something came over the team, for four straight defeats were administered to it, Dover, East, Massillon and North. The team didn't win again until the Garfield game when we took Garfield's measure, 30 to 18. Kenmore was our fourth rival in the city series. The Cavaliers out-pointed them 30 to 11. South administered a sound defeat to West as a conclusion, ruining their championship hopes. The score was 10 to 9.

THE NORTHEASTERN OHIO "TOURNEY"

South High entered the tournament and drew Salem for her first game. Salem was a hard game, but we won 21-20. Then we played Youngstown East, whom we beat easily, the score being 24-10. Next we played Canton McKinley and they proved too good for us; we lost by one point, 17-16, the game proving a thriller all the way through.

GOLF

Our 1929 season opened with three of the four regulars back. Our hopes of winning the city championship were lost when we lost to West in a play-off. A play-off was necessary to determine the city champions because the first match resulted in a tie. We lost the second match by a score of 7-5. We entered the N. E. O. Tournament and placed fifth in it.

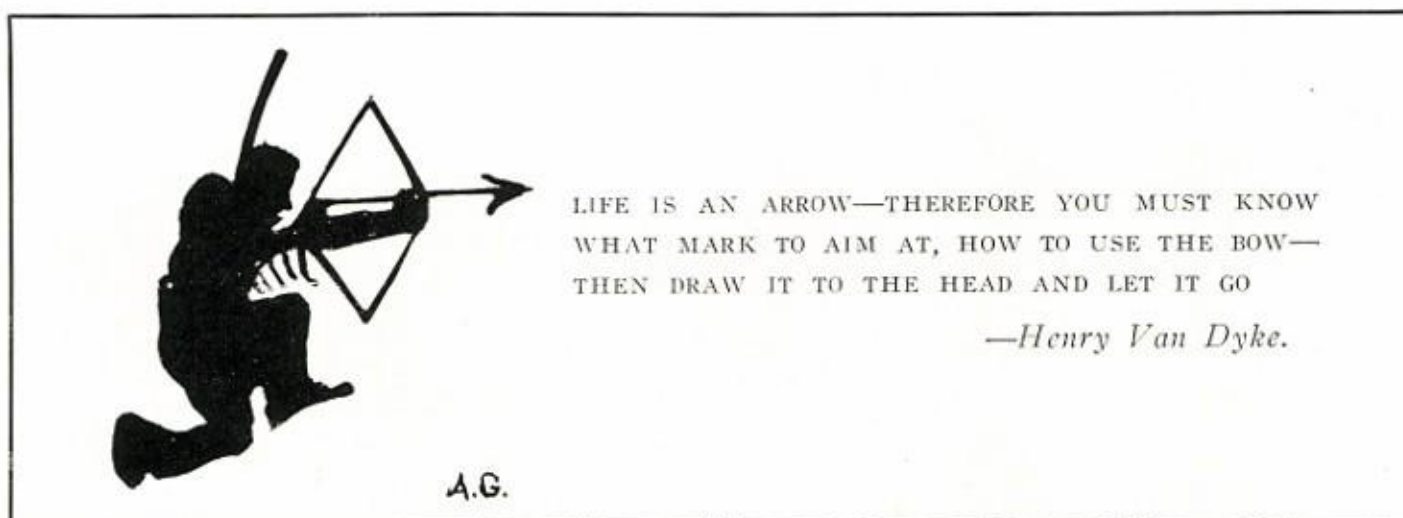

The members of last year's team were: Russell Ihnot, John Pamer, Russ Keller, and Steve Zavesin.

We won seven games, lost three, and tied one.

The scores were:

SENIORS OUTSTANDING IN ATHLETICS

Sarah Schermesser—Excellent class work and earnest effort.

Rhea Hamann—Dancing.

Evelyn DeQuasie—Tumbling.

Esther Hallauer—Basketball.

Mary Carnahan—Corrective work.

Grace Hensal—Won track meet, member of Leader's Corps three years. Best sportsmanship in athletics in senior class.

Irene Ewerth—Won gym meet, member of Leader's Corps three years.

The girls' athletic department has had a very busy year. First was hockey, played at the Wooster Stadium, in which the Senior class succeeded in becoming champions.

In the months of October and November anyone stepping into the Gym would have marveled at the busy scene before him, for the pin ball league played every noon, and also the dances for the musical program of Thanksgiving were being practiced.

In November and December was the volley-ball tournament in which all the girls took part.

In December the girls' gym was occupied at morning, noon, and night with girls practicing for the individual gym meet sponsored by the "S" club. This year the silver cup was won by Irene Ewerth. Grace Hensal received second place and the gold medal, Evelyn DeQuasie third place and the silver medal, and Esther Albert fourth place and the bronze medal.

After Christmas came basketball. A league was formed, and nine teams played in the tournament in February and March. From these teams, girls to play on their class teams were chosen. And in the latter part of March the interclass series was played in basketball.

In March the girls played in a fist-ball league at noon. Basketball began in April.

HENSAL

EWERTH

The tumbling club was reorganized but was limited to thirty members. Audrey Baer was elected president. The club took part in the musical program of Thanksgiving. In April they have a program in Junior and Senior chapel.

By this time pleasant weather had arrived. In May all girls who wished could enter the track meet. Last year there were 180 girls; Grace Hensal won the meet.

This year a department of corrective gymnasium was organized. There are seventy girls taking work in this department. Each girl is given individual gymnastics, after having had a medical exam. Girls make great improvements in this work.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In June, 1925, the Honor Society of South High was organized. At the first election, thirty members were voted into the society. The total active and alumni membership is now one hundred and fifty.

To be eligible for membership one must be outstanding in scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Final selection is made by members of the faculty. Only 11-A, 12-B, and 12-A students may belong.

The activities of the society have been helpful and numerous. The members aid in tutoring; they gather statistics for all exceptional records which the students make in attendance, citizenship, and scholarship. It is the duty of the society to present the Freshman Cup to the grade school whose freshmen have earned the highest average for the semester; it was presented to the South High Elementary School this year. The group also assumed the responsibility of preparing the club handbook and of presenting medals to the two 12-A's having the highest average.

Each semester the Executive council holds a banquet for the members of the Honor Society. There are six chapters of the National Honor Society in Akron. The South Chapter is No. 333 on the national roll.

THE VARSITY "S" ASSOCIATION

The Varsity "S" Association was organized in 1921 by Coach Edgar Weltner. The purpose of the organization is to create a better condition and a greater representation in the field of athletics at South High School.

The qualifications of the club are: to earn the coveted "S" in any of the major sports—football, basketball, and track, or to give four years of service as a manager, and to pass satisfactorily an initiation outlined by the members and approved by the principal.

The faculty adviser of the club is Coach "Doc" Wargo; the present officers are as follows: President, George Smith; Vice President, Russell Keller; Secretary-Treasurer, Jutz Mihalik. Election of officers is held at the beginning of each semester.

THE GIRLS' "S" CLUB

The Girls' "S" Club was organized in 1924. The purpose of this club is to give the girls of South an opportunity to earn a school letter; the aim of the club is to promote health and good sportsmanship among the girls of the school.

As there is no interscholastic competition for girls in the Akron public schools, a point system has been evolved. A girl who earns her letter must make points in all the various lines of athletic activities; she must swim, she must hike; she must take part in the organized sports of the school year; she must make points in her daily gym class.

Any girl wishing to become a member must be a candidate for one semester and must make fifty points during the semester. After being taken into the club a girl must make twenty-one points a semester in order to remain a member. A girl must make 200 points for her small letter. Seventy-five of these points must be in sports and games, seventy-five in class work, and the remaining fifty are optional. It usually takes a girl a year and a half to earn her first letter. Before a girl may wear an "S" club pin, she must make seventy points. The letter of the club is an old English "S"; forty-eight of these letters have been awarded since the club was started.

The club has many social events all through the year, which are thoroughly enjoyed by the members. The officers for the first semester were: Irene Ewerth, President; Frances Thompson, Vice-President; Audrey Baer, Treasurer; and Anita Hersman, Secretary. For the second semester officers were: Grace Hensal, President; Lucille Wetzel, Vice-President; Esther Albert, Secretary; and Gertrude Jacobs, Treasurer.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Membership in the Senior Dramatic Club is open to the members of the 12-A and 12-B classes who have passed the try-outs given by the adviser of the club. New members are always admitted at the beginning of a semester. The bi-weekly meetings are devoted to dramatics, talks on staging, make-up, and costume, or readings of dramatic sketches. In this way the club offers both education in dramatics and opportunity to participate in plays.

There is usually a chapel program each semester in which the 12-B's present a play and there is always a Senior play given by the 12-A's.

The class of January, 1930, presented "Stop Thief", coached by Miss Hamilton. The 12-B's of that semester gave three short plays, "The Londonderry Air", "At the Junction," and "Bargains in Cathay". In the spring the June Class will present, "Adam and Eva", as their class play; it will be coached by Miss Powell.

Second Row: Lower, Sagadencky, Kuhar, Sutton, Smith, Baer, Fowls, Hinman, Guffey, Piry, Miss Johnson.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The Junior Dramatic Club is composed of members of 11-B and 11-A classes. Much interest was shown this year, and 98 students took part in the tryouts for membership; of this number 35 were selected.

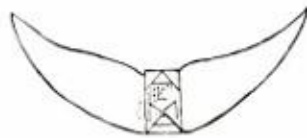

Regular meetings are held on alternate Mondays in Room 105 at 8:30 A. M.

A short play was presented by members of the Club at each of the regular meetings. Preparation of a play, staging a play, and make-up were studied and discussed during the semester. The Club is preparing a play to be given in Senior Chapel in April.

The present officers are: President, Kathleen Harpley; Vice President, Thomas Coyne; Secretary, Audrey Baer; Treasurer, Mae Hinman.

Back Row: Mr. Schubert, Emanuele, Olson, Long, Larch, Cox, Pamer, Reighard.

AERO CLUB

When South's first Aero Club was organized, the building of lighter-than-air models was promoted. The next models were of airplanes, and were built for speed. A speed of twenty-five yards in a little over two seconds was a good flight.

The present Club at South builds models for endurance. Ninety-four seconds is the present record for indoor planes. The outdoor planes have a much greater endurance. South has placed high in the meets at Central where all city schools compete.

The president of the club is Harry Carey; the secretary is Paul Patterson. Mr. Schubert is faculty adviser.

Back Row: Sullivan, Thomas, Stark, Atha, McLain, Kunkle, Cliff, Coyne.

Third Row: Zeis, Fay, Rubright, Cooper, Mitchell, Josis, Clark, Buda, Taylor, Coorsh, Sharp, Holmes, Harpold, Mills, Inman, Hickman.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

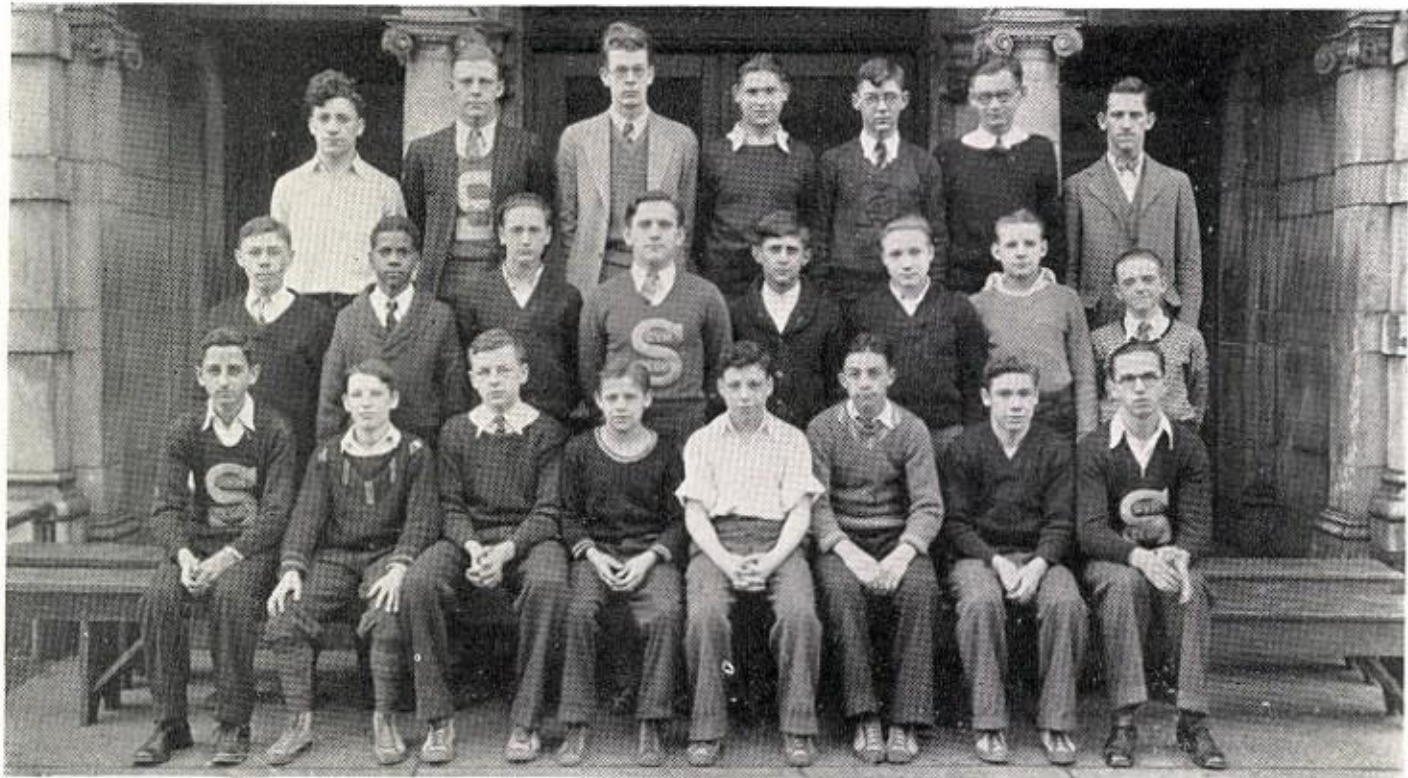

The purpose of the Chemistry Club is to stimulate an interest in the study of Chemistry, and to show the importance of Chemistry in the home, in manufacturing processes, and in all the fundamental processes of nature.

A fund of money is being accumulated for the purchase of reference books along various chemical lines.

In addition to the regular meetings held every two weeks, occasional trips are made to factories and various scenes of industry where particular phases of chemistry may be studied at first hand. Practical chemists are also invited to address the club.

Students who are now taking Chemistry or who have completed it are eligible to membership.

The present officers are: President, Mae Hinman; Vice-President, Hedwig Klein; Secretary, Ella Major; Treasurer, Frances Gates.

Back Row: Lipari, Hickman, Fink, Kapitz, Humble, Mess, Rilling.
Second Row: Zatrovitz, Holmes, Csipke, Nemione, Gerin, Cziraki, Rehl, Williams.
Front Row: Carson, McMasters, Rudgers, Kuntz, Lipari, Mazzola, Garner, Hardy.

BOYS' GYM CLUB

The Boys' Gym Club was organized to give advanced work to those boys who desire it. Advanced work in regular classes is impossible because of the less athletic boys.

The club is the most active in the school, meeting every morning at 7:45.

The club has given several chapel programs, a combined exhibition with the Girls' "S" Club, and took important part in the May Day exercises and the Mass Drill in 1928.

There are five offices: president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and assistant treasurer.

In October, 1928, deserving members were presented with letters in recognition of their work.

Under the expert supervision of Mr. Loeber, our friend and instructor, the club has grown into a large, active class, and we are sure that it will grow to even greater bounds in future years.

Back Row: Mansor, Dandrea, Beighy, Severns, Falor, Huth, Hieber, Orcutt, Gabalac, Carrao, McMasters, Sours, Hardy, Sullivan, Kosich.

THE SPANISH CLUB

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to bring the students who are taking Spanish into a closer relationship with one another, and to promote an interest in the language.

This club was organized several years ago. It meets twice a month; all meetings are conducted in Spanish with an interesting program planned for each meeting. Spanish games are often played at the close.

This term international programs have been planned; and the members corresponded with boys and girls in Spain.

The officers for the September term were: Fred Orcutt, president; Margaret Trommer, vice-president; Carl Mazzola, secretary; Melvin McMasters, treasurer. Officers for the January term are: Carl Mazzola, president; Alex Hardy, vice-president; Elizabeth Gray, secretary; Earl Johnson, treasurer.

Miss Mary Pusateri is the faculty adviser of the club.

Back Row: Cooper, Higgins, Hrzic, Pfaff, Leshner, Strum, Fowls, Smith, Commings, Gray, Brubaker, Parsons, Gerberick, Hager.

GIRL RESERVES

The purpose of the Girl Reserves Club is: "To face life squarely, and to find and give the best."

The fall term opened with the usual membership drive. A Tag Day was held in honor of the incoming Freshmen. A short sketch of the life enjoyed at the Y. W. C. A. summer camp on Lake Erie was presented in Chapel.

At Christmas the Girl Reserves sold Red Cross Christmas seals. They also contributed a generous basket to a needy family.

One of the main social events was a Hi-Y-G. R. dance sponsored by South's Club. In February the Cabinet of the Girl Reserves of South gave a supper for the cabinet girls of the other schools. An initiation party was held at the Y. M. C. A. in honor of the new members. Another outstanding event of the year was the G. R. dance held at the Y. W. C. A. in March. A St. Patrick's day party was given, and, in May, a Mothers' and Daughters' banquet.

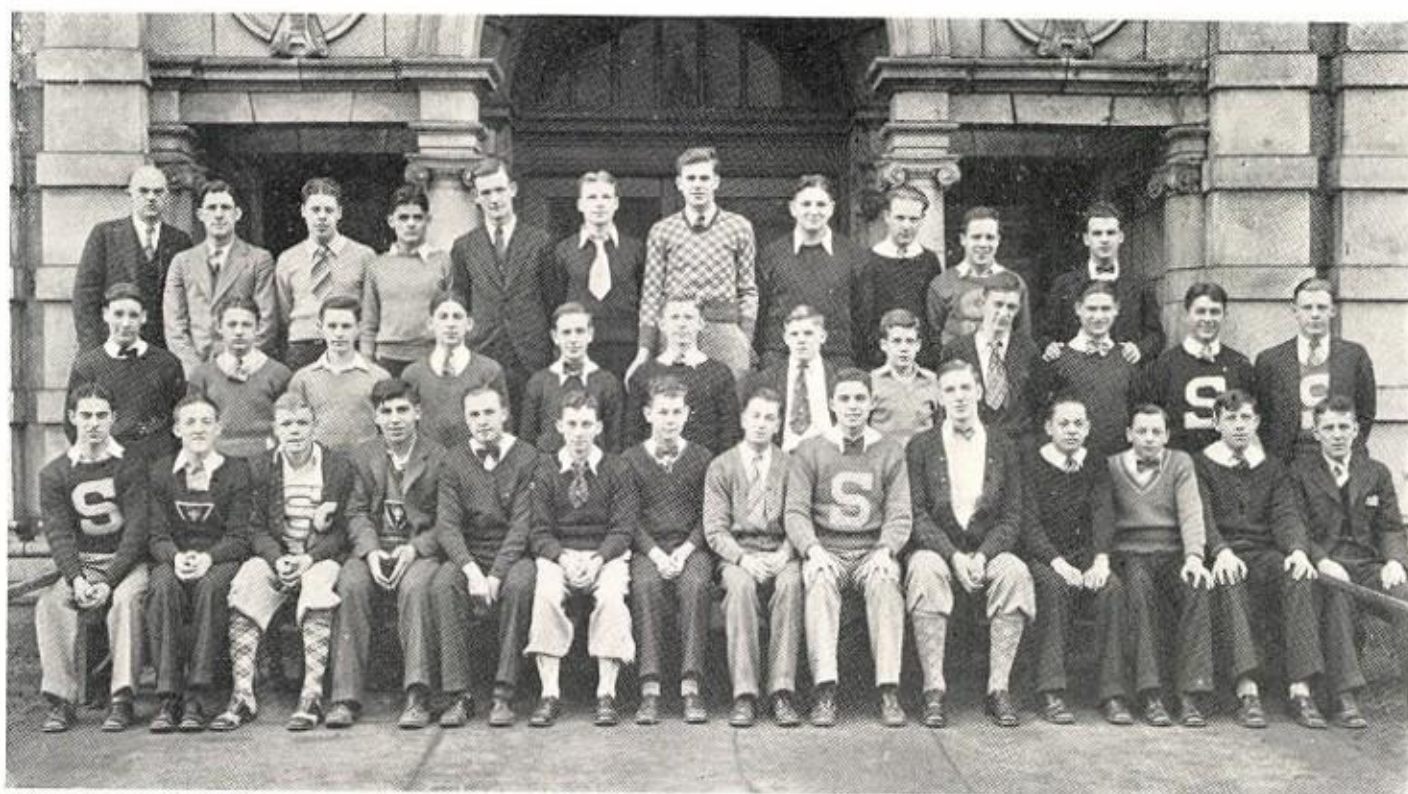

The city Hi-Y-G. R. Clubs centered their interest in a Summit County Youth's Convention held the fifth of April at which the delegates gained a broader vision of the purpose of their clubs.

The officers of the year 1930 are: president, Gladys Hensal; vice-president, Elizabeth Klein; secretary, Bernice Hine; treasurer, Audrey Baer.

The cabinet members are: Wanda Aleshire, Onnie Boles, Donna Cooper, Grace Hensal, Ruth Larson, Luella Lingo, Cora Livingston, Edith Thom, Lucille Wetzel, and Ethlyn Wilson.

The advisers are Miss Dorn and Miss Robinson.

Regular meetings are held three times a month; the cabinet meets twice a month.

Back Row: Mr. Cole, Biechlin, Brillhart, Myers, Morris, Stark, Schmidt, Ridge, Shaw, Howiler, Inman.

Second Row: Roush, Piry, Stark, Finn, Kamrad, Haas, Pittenger, Tryon, Weirath, Kapitz, Smith, Hickman.

HI-Y

The purpose of the Hi-Y club is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout both the school and the community higher standards of Christian character."

The present officers are: president, Frederick Schmidt; vice-president, Keith Biechlin; treasurer, Julius Mihalik; secretary, George Smith.

Each semester the club sponsors a Freshman Mixer; all freshmen are invited for a real evening of fun. From the guest list, names are selected and, if approved by the principal, those boys are then eligible to membership in their sophomore year.

Each year the club send members to state and district conferences. The total club membership is now twenty-eight.

Back Row: Shelley, Wentsler, Larson, McMellion, Miss Powell.
Front Row: Aleshire, Harr, Coyne, Pfaff.

THE GIRLS' CLUB

The Girls' Club of South High School has continued, uninterrupted, since it was organized in 1923 by Miss Norma Williams, supervisor of the girls at that time.

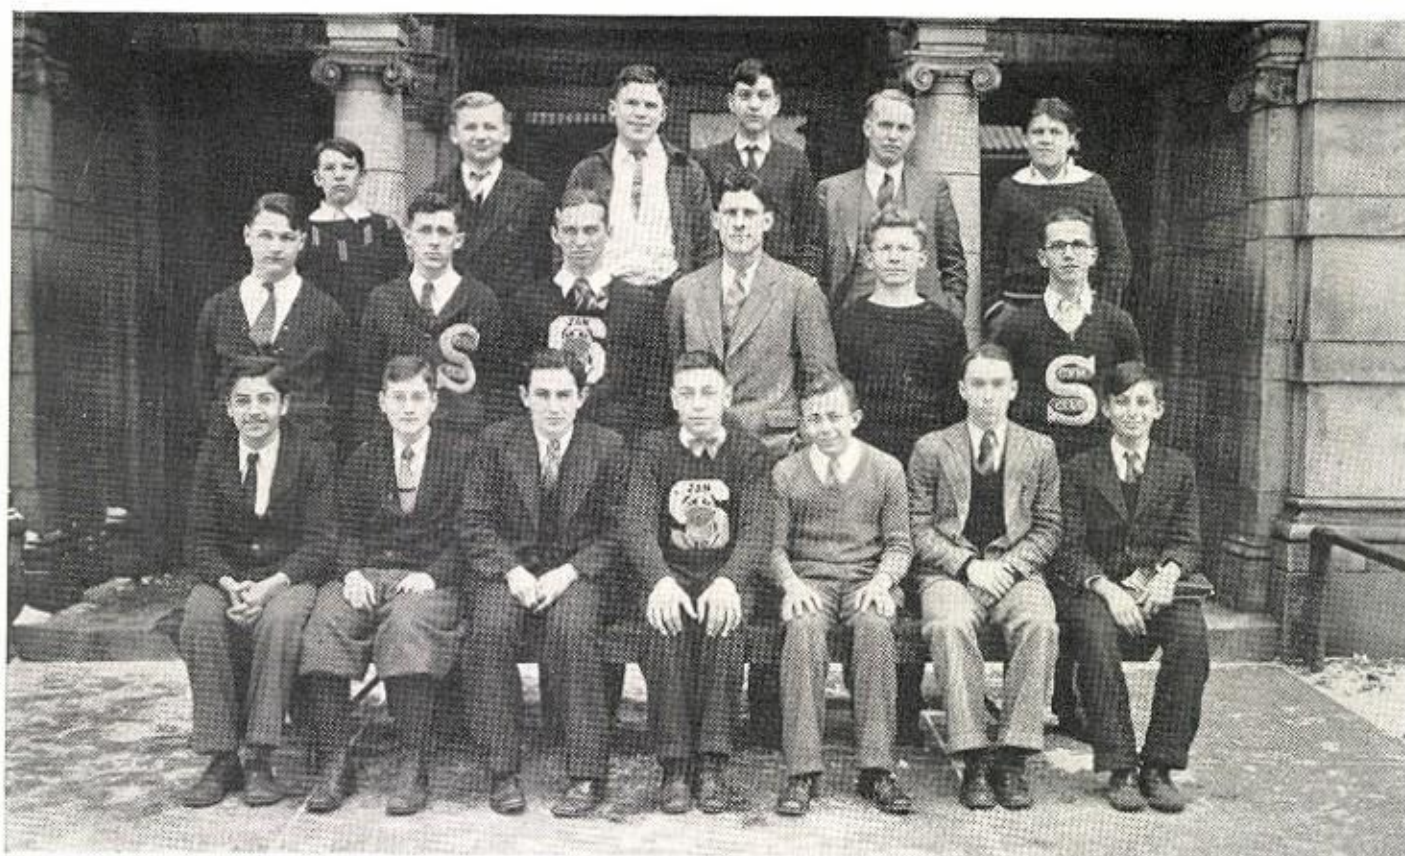

The object of the club is to offer to the girls of the school a medium through which service can be rendered, and inspiration to high living may be received. It associates them in friendly co-operation through properly organized channels, and binds them in a spirit of loyalty to South.

The Girls' Club is valuable in many ways: it creates new acquaintances and broadens old friendships, it helps the worthy on various holidays, and adds greatly to the happiness of high school days.

The standing committees are Program, Service, and Friendship; the last committee endeavors to keep in touch with girls who are out of school owing to extended illness.

The annual May Day festival is a traditional Girls' Club activity.

Virginia Shelley of January, 1930, and Leitha Harr of June, 1930, have served as presidents of the club this year.

Back Row: McMasters, Krahling, Martinkus, Coorsh, Mr. Anderson, Helfrich.
Second Row: Fulton, Gerin, Keller, Biechlin, Haas, Hardy.
Front Row: Rinaldo, Falor, Kosich, Klein, Grampp, Anderson, Raider.

BOYS' TUTOR CLUB

The Boys' Tutor Club was organized in January, 1928, under the direction of Mr. W. E. Anderson.

The purpose of the club is to give help to boys who are below par in their school work, try to get more boys' names on the Honor Roll, and to promote scholarship among freshmen boys.

The membership of the club consists, for the most part, of upper-classmen who are willing to give time to tutoring boys, usually freshmen, who find some study difficult. Having one's name on the Honor Roll is not required but most of the members have their names there. Any boy who has satisfactory grades is eligible and is invited to join.

Each year a banquet is given for all members of the Tutor Club. At this time a noted citizen speaks before the club, and an entertainment is given. The club has sponsored scholarship contests among the freshmen boys.

The officers for this year are: President, Henry Haas; Vice-president, Joe Gorup; Secretary, William Grampp; Treasurer, Harry Coorsh.

Back Row: Nakov, Schermesser, Albert, Ulatowski, Hinman, George Singer.
Front Row: Burgy, Scheiller, Major, Miss Bruederlein, Lucas, Negley, Lingo.

GIRLS' TUTOR CLUB

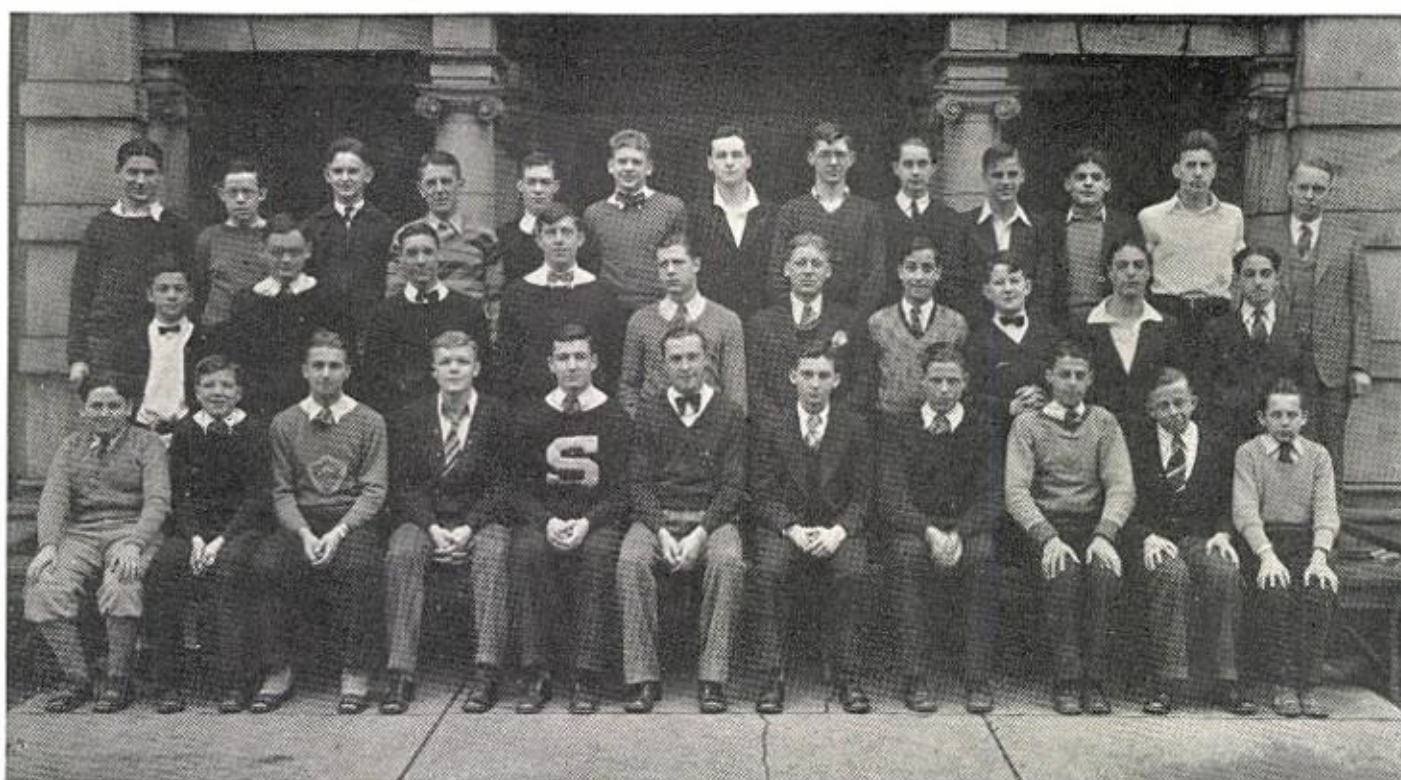

Leading in various fields of study you will find the Girls' Tutor Club, organized in the fall of 1929.

The club was organized for the purpose of assisting girls who are weak in various subjects. Girls who are considered able students in certain studies compose the staff of tutors.

At the end of each grading period all girls of the school who have failed in subjects are assigned to tutors, who coach them in the weak subjects.

Miss Bruederlein is in charge of the Girls' Tutor Club. About twenty girls have been selected as tutors in special subjects. The instructor appoints a tutor to a certain girl and this tutor is responsible for her pupil's grades.

The officers of the Club are: President, Betty Lucas; Vice-president, Thelma Singer; Secretary, Ella Major.

Back Row: Kapitz, Pallage, Pealy, Kunkle, Thomas, Ericson, Foley, Humble, Hardesty, Miller, Myers, Kapper, Mr. Anderson.

Second Row: Martin, Mess, Roush, Orcutt, Edwards, Thomas, Toth, Juillerat, Filing, Filing.

GOLF CLUB

The Golf Club was first organized in 1927 under the direction of Mike Smith. The officers were: Mike Smith, president; Kenneth Sweet, treasurer; and Ernest Schultz, secretary. No team was organized, but at the end of the semester a tournament was held to determine the first golf champion. The title was won by Russell Keller.

The following year the club was organized under the supervision of Mr. W. E. Anderson, and a golf team was chosen. Six matches were played with other Akron schools. John Pamer won the championship in that year's tournament.

The officers for 1929 were: Russell Keller, president; Russell Ihnot, vice-president; John Pamer, secretary; and Steve Zavesin, treasurer.

This year's officers are: Andrew Royka, president; Harold Edwards, vice-president; Andrew Thomas, secretary; and John Ericson, treasurer.

Back Row: York, Biechlin, Beckman, Richards, Jeffries, Grampp.

Second Row: Hensal, Dietz, Camp, Stump, Sowers, Smith, Jacobs, Barbaris, Miss French.

ART CLUB

The purpose of the Art Club is to forward the study and appreciation of art. The Club meets every second Thursday in the month. Sometimes there is a business meeting and at other times special programs are arranged.

It has been the custom of the Club to present a gift to the Art Department each year. Committees for membership, programs, properties, bulletin boards, constitution, and flowers were formed at the beginning of the year.

The Club had a Christmas party at the Akron Pure Milk Hall. The evening was spent in games and dancing.

The officers for 1929 were as follows: President, Pearl Camp; Vice-president, Howard Kaser; Secretary, Frances Gerberick; Treasurer, Keith Biechlin.

Back Row: Zinn, Hardesty, Brown, Thom, Runyon, Wilson, Biechlin, Schmidt, Hine, Miss Tilock, Boles, Morrison, Koek.

Second Row: Beese, Grecni, Deneke, Tryon, Falor, Weil, Carrao, Weirath, Gorup, Johnson, Sarb, Grampp, Severns.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The "Hobbies" of Nature lovers—such as birds, wild flowers, tree recognition, insect collections, gardening, and conservation of wild life—are the subjects of discussion in programs and field trips of the Biology Club.

The officers of the club are: President, Meredith Weil; Vice-president, Harry Beese; Secretary-Treasurer, Vera Crawford; Faculty adviser, Miss Miriam Tilock.

ALUMNI DRAMATIC CLUB

The South High Alumni Dramatic Club was organized in the spring of 1928, for the purpose of continuing the study and practice of dramatics. Under the leadership of Richard Keifer, the first president of the club, the Alumni were united; in June, 1929, a constitution was drawn up and adopted. Harley Sir Louis is now President, assisted by Wayne Barker, Faye Richart, and Gerdena Pence, who are Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, respectively. Miss Dorothy Powell and Miss Mary Hamilton are honorary members, the former also being the club director.

The first public appearance of the club was made in May, 1928, in the staging of the comedy hit, "Kempy," an exceptionally amusing play. The second appearance of the Club was in Robert Kuth's comedy, "The Tightwad," presented at the Goodyear theater in February, 1930. Through this second production the Club has received the public recognition for which they have worked, and an influential backing of which they are quite proud. Anyone who was a former member of the Senior Dramatic Club is eligible to be selected by the membership committee of the Alumni Chapter. New members are received and initiated only twice a year, in January and June. A written application must be in the hands of the Alumni Corresponding Secretary within two months after graduation. From the list of applicants the membership committee selects those persons whom they wish to initiate, not exceeding one-third the number of the 12-A Dramatic Club members in that graduating class. Those persons are then elected into membership by a two-thirds vote of the members present when the vote is taken.

The Alumni Club bespeaks the co-operation of the active club and sincerely hopes that their work will always be of a standard that will be a credit to South High.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club was organized February, 1930. All girls enrolled in the Foods and Clothing classes and all girls who have already completed the courses are entitled to join the club.

There is one business meeting and one social meeting each month.

The objects of the club are as follows:

1. To give social experience through club activities.
2. To increase respect for, and interest in, the home, by pointing out its many activities and influences.
3. To utilize the club as an opportunity for acquainting the girls with aspects of Home Economics that are not studied in class work.
4. To stimulate interest in hobbies and in the wise use of leisure.

The officers of the club are: President, Sarah Schermesser; Vice-president, Anita Hersman; Secretary, Josephine Dice; Treasurer, Bertha Kraus.

The advisers of the club are Miss Honora Tobin and Miss Mary Louise Clossey.

RED CROSS AUXILIARY

The purpose of the Red Cross is, primarily, to build a finer and higher type of citizen. Since he who has the habit of giving joyous and gracious service to those who need it has developed many of the qualities of good citizenship, service is the keynote of the Junior Red Cross Organization.

At South each club has elected one member from its number to form the Junior Red Cross Auxiliary. The Auxiliary meets once a month with the Junior Red Cross Sponsor; and these members then report to their individual clubs. This Auxiliary meets one week before the Council of the Junior Red Cross, so that a complete report of activities may be given.

In the spring semester of 1930, an effort was made to emphasize International Friendship, through the medium of club and class programs.

TRAFFIC SQUAD AND HALL GUARDS

The traffic boys help with the dismissal of school at noon and at night, and they serve as guards at Main Street. No one has been seriously hurt since the boys were placed there.

The hall guards preserve order on the entrance floor, direct visitors, and protect school property.

CUSTODIANS

The custodian staff of South High School consists of the following: Otis Fisher, head custodian; Buford ("Casey") Jones, first assistant; Mrs. Alice Mitchell, janitress, and student helpers.

Mr. Fisher came to South from Garfield High School in 1928. He is a stationary engineer and has complete charge of the upkeep and cleaning of the whole building. He is a veteran of the World War, having been a Sergeant of Company H, 23rd Infantry. He spent two years and nine months in service, two years of which were in France. He was gassed on October 15, 1918, in the battle of Muse Argonne, but has completely recovered from the effects of the gas. He is married and resides at 1078 Dietz Avenue, with his wife and two sons, aged five and six.

Buford Jones came to South in September, 1929, from Portage Path School. He has full charge when Mr. Fisher is away, is in charge of all repair work, and substitutes for any absent worker. He is single and lives at 748 West Market.

Charles Goughe has charge of the gyms, shops, and campus.

Mrs. Mitchell has charge of the girls' lavatories, all wash bowls throughout the building, Miss Powell's office, and the teachers' rest room.

The assistants who work part time and are students at South High are: Robert Ralston, 202, 10-B, who cleans the fourth floor; Robert Shortle, 103, who sweeps the third floor; Paul Royka, 301, who sweeps the second floor; Richard Marquardt, 401, who sweeps the first floor.

THE STAFF'S "THANK-YOU"

As we go from reality to humor, the staff desires that you stop a moment or two to give a thought to those who have made "The Sohian" possible at South High School.

Last year our printing instructor, Mr. Lytle Cole, was responsible in a great measure for the success of the 1929 Sohian. Not content with his achievement last year, he has given time, labor, thought, and advice for this present publication.

To Miss Ellen Due goes the full credit of all literary work in this book. Her days and nights have been filled with fact, fiction, and all the worries of a literary adviser—and they were not few.

Without Art, an annual is not possible. Without Miss Ruth French this particular "Sohian" would not have been possible. She gave of her time, work, and advice.

When all others have finished their work, the proof-reader begins. Miss Frances Hammitt has read this book from cover to cover twice—before it went to the printer, and after the first copy was finished by the printers.

Guiding and directing all the staff and the faculty assistants was Miss Mary Pusateri. All through the year she has planned and contrived, undaunted by the impossible. To the "dea ex machina" all are grateful.

FOOL IN

HERE AND THERE—AROUND SOUTH HIGH

Wallace Moore: "Dad, you're a lucky guy!"

Mr. Moore: "Well, how's that?"

Wallace: "Well, you won't have to buy many school books this year, 'cause I flunked."

Mr. Anderson (in American History): "Now children, try and remember that it was Roger Williams who was banished from Massachusetts, not Will Rogers."

Miss Tilock: "What is a mountain?"

Freshie: "A level plain with a humped back."

Mr. White: "When was Rome built?"

Tom Porter: "At night."

Mr. White: "Who told you that?"

Tom: "You did. You said Rome wasn't built in a day."

Ain't it the Truth?

Found in a student's Latin book:

"If there should be another flood,
For refuge hither fly,
Though the whole world should be submerged,
This book would still be dry."

Mora Folk: "Love-making is the same as it always was."

W. Beck: "How can you tell?"

Mora: "I've just read of a Greek maiden who sat and listened to a lyre all night."

Mr. Switzer: "That answer is as clear as mud."

Jess Cooper: "Well, doesn't that cover the ground?"

Mr. Switzer: What is the active voice?

Glen: When the subject acts.

Mr. S.: What is the passive voice?

Glen: When the subject sits down.

In the Cafeteria

Miss Due (to Mr. Switzer): Where did you get that mince pie? I didn't see any on the counter.

Mr. Switzer: Here, I'll give you some of mine. Pious of me, isn't it?
